

BENJAMIN BUCK HELD FOR SUPERIOR COURT IN SUM OF $9000

When the case of Benjamin Buck of Tewksbury, charged with assault with intent to murder Capt. James Brennan and Patrolmen Clyde R. Aldrich and James Conditino was called in police court this morning, his counsel, Melvin G. Rogers waived examination and pleaded with Judge McIntire to have the bail reduced, but his Honor refused and the defendant was held for the superior court in the sum of $9000.

In opening Lawyer Rogers asked the court to reduce the bail to $1000 inasmuch as the seriousness of the assault was not as great as was feared at the time of the shooting. He said the superintendent of the U. S. Cartridge Co., where Buck was employed, was willing to give him back his old job, but the court refused to decrease the bail on the grounds that the man deliberately fired at three police officers and that even though the injuries would not prove fatal, the injuries

NEW HORSES FOR FIRE DEPT.

Professor Sanborn of Tufts college, noted inventor and teacher of engineering, asked permission of the Lowell water department to bring a class of 15 students to the Lowell filter plant this afternoon, and it was readily granted. Professor Sanborn has made periodical trips to this city for several years, and many engineers who have supervised municipal undertakings here have been graduates of his classes. Engineer Gow, who supervised the building of the local filter plant, was one of Mr. Sanborn's pupils.

JURY GETS CASE OF GIRL KILLED BY AUTO

The testimony in the case of John F. Twomey, administrator of Joseph E. Meany, both of Billerica, was completed in the local session of the civil superior court today. Several witnesses testified as to the automobile accident which occurred in front of the Republican club in North Billerica on Sunday afternoon, May 21, and caused the death of Miss Margaret V. Twomey, sister of the plaintiff. After all the evidence had been submitted the arguments of the attorneys were made and the case was given to the jury.

AMBULANCE BUSY

Four Calls Responded to in Quick Succession This Forenoon—Injured Men Taken to Hospital

The ambulance was kept quite busy this forenoon responding to accident calls. The first call was received at 7:25 o'clock for the removal of Henry T. Agnoli from Lawrence street, East Blanchery street, to St. John's hospital, after the man had injured his ankle in a fall on the street.

Twenty-five minutes later the ambulance was called to the Merrimack Mfg. Co., where Michael Foley of East Burnside street injured his head in a fall from a staking. He was removed to the Lowell hospital.

At 8:20 o'clock another call was sent in for the ambulance to go to the Tremont & Suffolk mills, where James McCusland of Mammoth road had broken his thumb. He was taken to the Lowell hospital.

Thomas Conley of 11 McGovern's court fell from a staging at 10:44 o'clock while working at the blacksmith shop of V. Provencier in West Third street and broke his ankle. He was removed in the ambulance to St. John's hospital.

CHALIFOUX'S ON THE SQUARE

"Whether they had what I wanted or not, I would come here anyway."
Nothing that has come to us in profits in all our years of progress has meant so much to us as this remark from the customer, continued: "They always make you feel at home." That's something to be mighty proud of, isn't it? And we are. And what's more, this sentiment has come to us not only in this lady's words but in the wonderful "family" patronage which we enjoy. Everybody is "at home" here because we and all of us put forth that spirit of hospitality over the counter, in the office, in the showrooms, on the autos—everywhere. You are always welcome at Chalifoux's.

TWO SESSIONS OF PROBATE COURT HELD TODAY

The monthly sittings of the contested and uncontested sessions of probate court were held in the local court house today. Judge Lawton presided over the uncontested session and Judge McIntire over the contested session.

The report of Hon. Frederic A. Fisher who heard as auditor the first and second and the third and final items of the accounts of Dora A. Chase and Amos F. Hill as administrators with the will annexed of the estate of George W. Fifield which was filed some time ago was confirmed in the contested session of probate court without a hearing. Several long hearings were held in the case last spring. William H. Wilson appeared in the case. Judge Fisher's report was published in part last week.

Most Pay Wife

The matter of Samuel Guyette in which contempt was alleged as a result of the respondent's failure to abide with an order made by the court several months ago was heard by Judge McIntire. The respondent was ordered nearly a year ago to pay his wife four dollars per week after a separate support hearing. He paid regularly until about June 1 and has not paid anything since. His attorney, Albert S. Howard, said that Mr. Guyette understood that he was to be allowed to see his child while he made the weekly payments. He claimed that about June first his wife refused to allow him to see the child and that the respondent consulted an attorney. It was claimed that the lawyer, who is not in the case now, informed Guyette that no decree had been entered and that Guyette acted accordingly. Judge McIntire stated that the misinformed action given him by his former counsel did not excuse him and that he would have to be responsible for the error. After a conference between Attorney Howard and Dennis J. Murphy, who represented Mrs. Guyette, the respondent agreed to pay the amount due since June first and to make the weekly payments. With this understanding the case was continued.

The Riley Estate

A hearing was also held in the contested session on the allowance of the report of Fisher H. Pearson, who heard as auditor the accounts of Mrs. Mary K. Riley, former administratrix of the estate of Patrick J. Riley, late of Lowell. The confirmation of the report was objected to by W. G. Todd, who represented some of the creditors. Mr. Riley died on October 16, 1916. He was in the junk business and formerly conducted a barber establishment which was continued by his wife after his death. The creditors of the estate of Mr. Riley object to some of the items charged in the report. No decision was made. J. Gilbert Hill appeared for the petitioner.

Will Allowed

The will of Herman Dane, late of Lowell, was approved after three witnesses had been heard.

Will Allowed

In the uncontested session the following will was allowed: Elmer E. Buckland, Helene Turcotte and Frederick W. Barnes, all of Lowell. Administrations were granted as follows: George A. Whitman and Thomas H. Craig, of Lowell and W. Arthur Sexton of Billerica.

Jury Waived Session

In the jury waived session of the superior court which opened yesterday with Judge Callahan on the bench, the case of Francis Goodwin vs. the town of Sherborn was resumed and continued all forenoon. Officials of the town testified and submitted records which occupied considerable time. The plaintiff is suing for $1000 to recover for damages to his land alleged to have been caused by the town officers. He claims that they took 4000 loads of gravel and used it for building a new highway.

RUMANIANS FLEE BEFORE THE TEUTONS

By bold and rapid strokes, the Teutonic invaders apparently have conquered a large section of northwestern Wallachia from the Rumanians.

Rumanians Retreat

Petrograd's official bulletin today announces a Rumanian retreat in this part of the battle front to the region of Piliash, 40 miles northwest of Craiova. Judging from the recent reports of the operations, this means that converging attacks by Austro-German forces moving southward in the Jiu valley and eastward along the railway from Orsova have compelled the Rumanians to withdraw from the Orsova region and execute a rapid retreat in the Jiu valley.

Teutons Before Craiova

Whether even the rapid retreat indicated has been in time to save the Rumanian armies in this region is rendered doubtful by the German announcement that Teutonic troops are now before Craiova. The railroad running through Craiova to Bucharest affords the only convenient line of retreat for the Orsova and Jiu valley armies. The Rumanians have evidently reached the junction point of the Jiu valley road with the German line at Piliash, the loss of Craiova would effectively bar their way eastward except across country.

Rumanians Repulsed

Further eastward in Wallachia the arrival of Russian troops seems to have strengthened the Rumanian defense. The Russians took the offensive north of Campulung, according to Berlin, but were repulsed. The Rumanians are resisting persistently in the Alt valley, south of Rothenburg pass, but nevertheless were compelled to yield important positions to Gen. von Falkenhayn's troops.

Allied Successes in Macedonia

In the other chief field of present military activity, the Macedonian front, French and Serbian troops are continuing their pursuit of the German and Bulgarian forces which evacuated Monastir under entente pressure. Berlin reports the entente advance here as a "feeling out" of the Germano-Bulgarian positions by reconnoitering detachments. The new line is indicated by press despatches to lie about 17 miles northward of Monastir and is reported to be strongly entrenched and defended in part by fresh German forces.

East of the Monastir region Berlin declares Serbian attempts to advance were repulsed. West of Monastir the Italians, according to Paris, repulsed a counter attack.

On the Somme and Andre fronts in northern France, the fighting has been confined to artillery engagements.

DENIES HUGHES READY TO ADMIT DEFEAT

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Chairman William R. Wilcox of the republican national committee today denied reports that Charles E. Hughes had prepared a message of congratulation to President Wilson conceding his reelection but had withheld it on advice of republican leaders.

Mr. Wilcox reiterated previous statements that the time had not yet arrived for the republicans to concede the election to President Wilson. He said that even when the official count in California is known there might still be conditions in other close states to keep the final result in doubt.

H., Boston and other places and an informal program of vocal and instrumental music added a most enjoyable feature to the observance. An appetizing supper was served and the party dispersed with all wishing the young couple many more wedding anniversaries. Mr. and Mrs. Crowley received numerous gifts.

LAST WORD OF U. S. ON BORDER PROPOSALS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 21.—The American commissioners today gave to the Mexican commissioners what is understood to be the last opportunity for an amicable settlement of the questions that have arisen because of Carranza's failure to provide adequate protection for life and property along the international border.

At a joint session, Secretary of the Interior Lane as chairman of the American commission, informed Mr. Carranza's representatives that the American punitive expedition would be withdrawn within a reasonable time and under conditions that would not impair the dignity of the American government or leave unprotected the territory just south of the border now patrolled by the Americans. Incident to such withdrawal he outlined the manner in which the American government was prepared to guard the long line of frontier and to run down and punish any marauding band that attempted a crossing into the United States. He made it clear to the Mexicans that this government would not tolerate any restrictions on the pursuit of bandits by American troops.

How Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican commission, and his colleagues received what is regarded as the last word of the American commissioners was not expected to be known until after the session came to an end this afternoon. When Mr. Lane went into the conference room this morning he carried in with him the assurance of the president that he had unqualified backing of his plan. The Mexicans were aware of the president's attitude and it was regarded as probable that they would concede from the position they had taken.

BIG LINER SUNK BY GERMANS

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 21.—Announcement was made here last night that the overdue Furness line steamer Rappahannock has been sunk by Germans.

No word has been heard of Capt. Garrett and his crew of 40 men and it is feared that they have perished.

Posted as Missing

The Rappahannock sailed from this port for Liverpool Oct. 19, and for 10 days has been posted as missing.

News of the Rappahannock's loss came to the local agents of the Furness line last night in a cable from the London office. The cable stated that the loss of the steamer was reported in London by wireless from Berlin, but no information was given as to the place or manner in which the steamer was sunk.

The Rappahannock had been engaged in the service between this port and Liverpool since 1907, and she was one of the ships that took a prominent part in the rescue of the passengers and crew of the steamer Volturno when that vessel was burned at sea.

The Rappahannock registered 3884 tons net and carried a valuable cargo, part of which consisted of 20,000 barrels of apples. She was built in Glasgow in 1908.

GERMANS ADMIT SINKING LINER ARABIA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Announcement by the semi-official Overseas news agency that a German submarine sank the British liner Arabia made a deep impression in official quarters yesterday and apparently removed all possibility that this case might take its place with that of the Persia, sunk in the Mediterranean long ago in some manner never cleared up. The British admiral said the Persia was torpedoed without warning, but none of the central powers would admit responsibility for it. Some officials expressed surprise that the attack upon the Arabia had been semi-officially admitted. It was suggested that the Overseas despatch might mean that Germany was preparing to make a test in this of the "armed ship" controversy with the United States, or that in some way a minor official hostile to Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's submarine policy, might have allowed the despatch to get out, seeing in it an opportunity to get out the issue. It has been known here for some time that Germany would make a bitter fight against the defensive arming of merchant ships.

The contention that the Arabia was an armed transport because she carried a 15-centimetre gun and had workmen and war munitions aboard is not regarded here as being justified. The ship was a Peninsula & Orient passenger liner, with many passengers. There was one American on his way to India. He has made an affidavit which has been forwarded to the state department.

BUTLER ADMITS TAKING MRS. BIGELOW'S JEWELS

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry and silverware which was stolen from the home of Mrs. Susan Thayer Bigelow, a prominent Boston society woman and wife of Henry Forbes Bigelow, an architect and wealthy clubman of this city, was recovered last night by the police when Reginald B. Butler, an English Butler employed by Mrs. Bigelow, was arrested. Rand was taken in his room at the Bigelow home, 142 Chestnut street, West End.
The sensational disclosure of a systematic plan to rob the family of valuable items was made by the arrest of Rand, who confessed, live and so it was a series of thefts extending over the past six months.
The stolen valuables were all recovered in Rand's room. These included three diamond pins valued at $300, several hundred dollars' worth of silverware and other family treasures. Rand said that he first stole from the family last July and has been taking property since that time.
It was learned last night that Mrs. Bigelow has been missing jewelry, silverware and other valuables for some time and was notified as to the identity of the thief. Recently she complained to the police, who started an investigation of the case. Plainclothes men were assigned to the robbery and their investigation resulted last night in the arrest of the butler.

ARREST BOSTON DOCTOR IN PITTSBURG

DR. NOBLE, IN WHOSE OFFICE
"DOPE" RAID WAS MADE, HELD
FOR POLICE
BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Dr. Lemuel F. Noble, whose office at 143 Massachusetts avenue, was raided a week ago by police, headed by Assistant District Attorney Webster, was arrested yesterday in Pittsburgh on a secret indictment charging him with conspiracy to illegally distribute habit-forming drugs. He is lodged in the Central police station at Pittsburgh and is being held to await the arrival of a police officer from Boston with requisition papers.
He was making an automobile trip with two companions and his movements had been watched by Pinkerton operators. His two companions were detained several hours and released after they had given the police a statement.
Dr. Noble was not in this city when his office was raided. He had travelled by automobile from Boston to Buffalo and from there to Erie, and his automobile had been shipped from Erie to Pittsburgh. The car was unloaded yesterday and it was the doctor's intention to leave Pittsburgh last night.
The raid on Dr. Noble's office at 143 Massachusetts avenue was the first of a sensational this city has seen in years. Twenty-five persons, most of them women, were found in the office and all were said to be addicted to the drug habit. The police assert that they secured information that led to the raid through a telegram addressed to Dr. Noble in New York, which requested him to come back because business was "good."

GERMAN REPLY IN ROWANMORE CASE

BERLIN, Nov. 20, via London, Nov. 21.—Secretary Joseph C. Grew of the American embassy, received today the German reply in regard to the sinking of the British steamer Rowanmore and three steamers which were lost in September. In regard to the Rowanmore the German government denies that the submarine fired upon lifeboats containing members of the crew and maintains that men on the Rowanmore owe their lives to the precautions taken by the Germans and the skill with which their operations were carried out.
In respect to the two remaining steamers in question the German government states they were not sunk by German forces and maintains that the Antwerpen, the third steamer, was destroyed in full accordance with the rules of international law.
The Antwerpen was built at Newport News for the Standard Oil Co. and was on her maiden trip to London when she was sunk. She was a vessel of 11,300 tons.

James Purcell, David Gerrieh, Fred Christos and Fred L. Dowling were arraigned on a complaint charging them with trespassing on land owned by Butler Ames and they admitted their guilt. Neglect of Wife

Inasmuch as the wife was not present in court and her whereabouts could not be known, the case of Albert I. Strout, who was charged with neglect of his wife, was dismissed.

Mrs. Frank B. She stated she does not want to have anything to do with him, for she can support herself. Harris promised to keep away from his wife and the court handed him a suspended sentence of five months to the house of correction.

State Farm Sentence

Hannah J. Gallagher, who was yesterday given a suspended sentence to the state farm after being found guilty of drunkenness, was in again this morning and given a free ticket to the state farm. It seems that Hannah was found under the influence of liquor at Liberty square only a few hours after she left the court room by Sergt. Maguire and Patrolman Kennedy. At the time she complained of having dislocated her ankle and she was sent to the station for examination, but her statement was denied by the city physician. When her case was called this morning Hannah said: "I didn't have a drink, Your Honor." The testimony of the police officers was too strong, however, and Hannah was given an assignment to the state farm.

One of the unsatisfactory horses is on truck 3. Though not an old horse compared with others in use in the department, he is always falling down and is a nuisance. Though treated for some time he has not responded and the fire officials say there is no hope of improvement.

Another of the horses is on Engine 1. This animal has been in the department for 10 or 12 years. He is afflicted with the heaves and is blind in one eye. He has been driven carefully but it is claimed that he is wholly unfit for service and that if he is driven much longer there is sure to be trouble.

The third horse which Chief Saunders and Commissioner Putnam want to have replaced, is attached to truck 1. The animal is 20 years old and has been in the department 14 or 15 years. He suffers from a swollen leg which does not respond to treatment.

LARGEST STOCK OF COLUMBIA GOODS IN LOWELL.

$375 or $400 each. Unless provision is made for same by the municipal council, they say, it will be necessary to secure more motor apparatus.

Offers For Chassis

Bids have been coming in from manufacturers of motor apparatus for the chassis for which an appropriation of $3600 was made some time ago. At the present time, Commissioner Putnam has the bids of the White Motor company; the International Motor company; the makers of the Garford truck and the makers of the Garford truck. Although the prices named will not be given out until the bids are all in, they are said to be favorable.

This motor apparatus is meant to take the place of the heavy truck which has been in West Sixth street house but which has been used but little and which has been generally unsatisfactory. The plan is to use the ladders and other equipment and thus reduce the price of the apparatus by so much.

Commissioner Putnam says that the White truck offered is like one constructed specially for the Quincy fire department and found very satisfactory. The Quincy apparatus cost $7000, but it is on a more elaborate chassis than the local truck is. The scale than Lowell would want. The chief trouble with the local truck is its great weight and height, but these defects can be remedied, it is hoped, when the apparatus is set on a modern chassis.

Contagious Hospital

Frederick M. Melloy has set up bathtubs at the site of the contagious hospital under the direction of City Engineer Kearney and he is about to do all the preliminary work as soon as possible. The contract for the work has been prepared by the city solicitor's office but has not yet been signed.

Minor Changes

A change in the contract with the firm of L. A. Derby & Co., electricians, involving an expenditure of about $262, has just passed through the city solicitor's office. It was to do with the fixtures in the corridor at the Memorial building. The style of the lights has been changed a little and changes have been made in the switch arrangements.

Park Activities

At the present time the park department is drawing sand from the city banks at the Chelmsford Street hospital and storing it in the bandstands in the North and South commons and at the Lenox street city stables. This sand will be used for the walks on the parks and commons.

The threatened opposition to the flooding of Shedd park has not materialized to date and the superintendent does not now anticipate any trouble. Two years ago a hearing was granted on the removal of the shrubbery but the source of the most trouble has been removed by filling in. If there had been enough money this year all of the low spaces would have been graded and filled in, but it will have to go over for another year.

Permits

Among the permits issued at the lands and buildings department have been one for a four-apartment building at 5-7-9-11 Crescent street to Peter Caddell, estimated cost $3000, and to Francis Lane for dwelling at 1499 Middlesex street, estimated cost $2200.

DELIGHTFUL PARTY

A delightful party was held Friday evening at the home of Miss Loretta Rogers, 689 Lakeview avenue, under the auspices of the Girls of the Shedd park department. The house was beautifully decorated with palms, potted plants and chrysanthemums. During the evening there were piano selections by the Misses Bernice Ryan, Mary Corbett, and Loretta Rogers; vocal solos by Mr. Deigan, Mr. McGreevey and a trio by Babe Warren and Lawrence Rogers. Numerous games were played and a buffet lunch was served. The party broke up at a reasonable hour, all pronouncing it a great success and thanking the young ladies for the excellent time provided. Those in charge were the Misses Mahol Fielding, Bernice Ryan and Loretta Rogers.

School Fire Drills

Mr. McDonald told of his experiences with school buildings and he said he is particularly interested in fire drills, for fire drills in schools have a lot to do with the number of egresses. "If the pupils of a school are properly trained as far as fire drills are concerned then the number of egresses can be lessened. It will take a little time, but I expect to get around to all the public and private schools of the city and test the children's ability and quickness in leaving the building after a fire alarm has been sounded."

Central block, Lowell, where he will be pleased to confer with people who have to do with public meeting places, etc. To The Sun man, today, the new inspector said his office is one of education and not of persecution. "If people know what is expected of them," he continued, "they would co-operate with the state inspector of buildings. I have had no difficulty in the past and I hope the same spirit which prevailed in my former district between the citizens and myself will prevail in my new district. My dealings will be with the city inspector of buildings and the local contractors and their aim is my aim. I don't expect to rush things but will endeavor to go along with my work in a satisfactory manner to all concerned. I will deal especially with theatres, public meeting halls, places of assembly, public buildings and schools, and my only purpose is to educate the builders as to the manner to install proper fire escapes."

"The work of the state is not structural, but it is intended to provide egresses enough to public buildings, etc. and also to devise means and ways to retard the progress of fire and I believe the city council and the state inspector should work hand in hand in a 'safety first' movement. Of course my territory is large, but with headquarters in Lowell it will be an easy matter for the contractors of this city to keep in touch with me. I have not as yet set office hours, but will do so as soon as I have gone over the district thoroughly. I will personally inspect every public and private school, assembly hall, theatre and meeting place in my district and will endeavor to do all in my power to have things in shape as quickly as time will permit." In closing Mr. McDonald again repeated that he hopes the people of Lowell will bear in mind that his office is one of education and not of persecution.

Good Health Is Impossible Without Good Blood

Scientists have revealed some amazing facts regarding the functions of the blood and its relation to health. To many, the blood is simply a necessary part of the body, which takes care of itself.

A microscopic examination of one drop of blood shows millions of minute bodies or corpuscles, each an individual life force. The life of a corpuscle is usually six weeks and must be replaced, science tells us, at the startling rate of 8,000,000 per second.

Good blood is the foundation of good health and can only be attained through a stomach in good condition.

The source of most ills is traceable directly to the stomach, which acts as a power plant, converting the food we eat into blood. Like all machinery the stomach occasionally fails in its duties and requires assistance to put it in proper condition.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

a product of nature, being made from clean wholesome grain thoroughly malted, is invaluable in assisting the stomach in its important duties, by stimulating the flow of gastric juices necessary for the proper digestion of food. If the stomach is kept in good condition, health invariably follows.

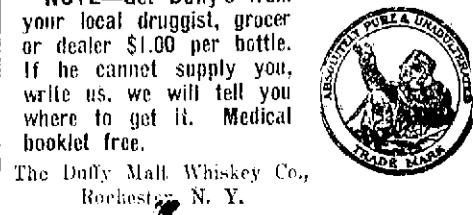

Better health awaits you if you take a tablespoonful of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in equal amounts of water or milk before meals and on retiring. Begin today to

PROCLAMATION FOR DAY OF THANKSGIVING

Special to The Sun.
STATE HOUSE, Boston, Nov. 21.—Governor Samuel W. McCall today makes public his Thanksgiving Proclamation, entitled "A Proclamation for a Day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise." It reads as follows:

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.
By His Excellency, SAMUEL W. MCCALL, Governor.

A PROCLAMATION
For a Day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise.

"In accordance with ancient custom, and by and with the advice and consent of Council, I appoint Thursday, the thirtieth of November, as a day of Thanksgiving and Praise. Our thanks should first be felt and spoken, not for the things that are material, but for those that minister to the spirit, for the things that make our Commonwealth more beautiful, that link upon and better to live in, and that tell for a higher life and a fairer civilization. With our thanks for a system of government founded upon civil and religious liberty let us unite our prayers for that system's preservation. To our gratitude for what has been given us as a people let each one of us add thanks for the good that has come into his own life. Let us not forget that thanks for our blessings are indeed empty unless they are crowned by compassion for the sorrow of others and by the endeavor to make those sorrows lighter for each one of our prayers but by our deeds.

"Let us devoutly pray to Almighty God for the speedy ending of the black welter of war that threatens to put out the light of Europe, and that mankind may be now and forever emancipated from its degrading servitude of war. It was long ago said that war 'lies in wait upon the rich meadow land of generous youth,' and from that time until now uncounted millions of the young flower of the race have been offered up in bloody sacrifice upon its hideous altar. War is the result of the ambitions and passions of older men, but the boys are the victims. Let us pray for the early coming of the day when war shall seem no less horrible than cannibalism and slavery and when justice and reason and not rapine and murder shall hold sway over the destinies of the world.

"Given at the Council Chamber, this twentieth day of November, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-first.

By His Excellency the Governor,
(Signed) SAMUEL W. MCCALL,
"God Save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

GERMAN SHIP WRECKED BY EXPLOSION

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The German steamer Fritz-Hugo-Sinnes has been wrecked in the Baltic through a boiler explosion, according to a Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. The vessel was bound from Gefle, Sweden, to Hamburg and seven of her crew are reported missing. She was a ship of 1487 tons.

GREEK STEAMER GIVEN UP AS LOST

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Fifty-three days out on a passage ordinarily completed in 13 days, the Greek steamship Nicholas Athansulis, from Penarth, Wales, for this port, has been given up as lost. The steamer called at Madeira for bunker coal on Sept. 25, seven days after leaving the Welsh port. She has not been heard from since leaving Madeira. The Athansulis, a vessel of 2344 tons, carrying a crew of 35 men was under charter to load 175,000 bushels of grain for delivery to the Greek government at Piraeus.

OLNEY SAYS SUFFRAGE LAW SURE TO PASS

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Congressman Richard Olney yesterday declared to a delegation of 25 members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage who called on him at his Summer street office that he feels perfectly sure the federal amendment granting the franchise to the women of the country will pass.

The delegation, headed by Mrs. Thos. H. Gray, Jr., of Brookline, included Mrs. Agnes Katharine Morey, president of the Massachusetts branch of the union, Miss Marian McGaw of Topeka, Kas.,

NO MONEY DUE MEN OF NINTH, SAYS LOGAN

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Col. Edward L. Logan of the Ninth regiment last night took direct issue with Adjt.-Gen. Pearson's finding of yesterday that the men of the Ninth are entitled to additional pay to the amount of $8.40 each, which, according to Pearson, was withheld from the pay of the men for their eight days at Framingham and turned into the company funds through a misunderstanding on the part of the company commanders.

Col. Logan says that there was never any question that the men were entitled to pay for their time at Framingham, prior to their departure for the Mexican border, but that the men themselves voted to turn the money into their company funds in order to supply themselves with the conveniences and comforts which they needed in Texas and which were not provided by the United States government.

The trouble over the alleged money due came about as a result of a protest made by 10 men of the regiment to the adjutant general yesterday. The men first sought to present their claims to Gov. McCall, but his excellency referred them to Adjt. General Pearson.

They argued that they were entitled to $1.55 a day for their Framingham service, but said that the company commanders, acting erroneously under an old statute, assumed they had a right to withhold, for company maintenance, the regular allowance taken from their annual tour of duty pay. Consequently they received but $4 for eight days instead of $2.40.

After hearing the protest of the 10 men of the Ninth the adjutant general issued a statement in which he said the company commanders had erred, and declared that the men should receive $8.40 more.

When the matter was called to the attention of Col. Logan, he made it plain that the case had been properly presented to the adjutant general.

INVEST $50,000,000 IN AMERICAN SECURITIES

JAPANESE MERCHANTS AND EXPORTERS DOING A BIG BUSINESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Within the last six months Japanese merchants and exporters have invested nearly $50,000,000 in American securities according to estimates in banking quarters. For the most part the securities were bonds, largely underlying railroad issues, although a substantial part consisted of mortgage bonds of industrial companies.

These investments are believed to be the outgrowth of the shifts of commerce directly traceable to the European war. Japan has been shipping to the United States a great amount of goods such as formerly were manufactured by Germany and at the same time exports of silks and other far eastern products from Japan to this country have been stimulated because of the reduction in the European demand.

CITY LEASES MINE; SELLS COAL FOR $2.75 PER TON

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 21.—The city of Terre Haute, through Mayor Gossom, entered the retail coal business yesterday, and greatly reduced the cost to the consumer. Residents of the city, through the municipal market, were able to buy coal at $2.75 a ton for which dealers were asking $6 a ton. Mayor Gossom has leased a mine and hired 200 teams to haul the coal to the city.

BRITISH STEAMER FIRED ON WITHOUT WARNING

THE SIAMANE PRINCE ATTACKED BY SUBMARINE OFF COAST OF FRANCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The British steamship Siamane Prince, returning in ballast after delivering a cargo of horses at Brest for the French government, was fired upon without warning, presumably by a German submarine, off the French coast on Nov. 4, according to officers of the vessel which arrived here today.

Three shots were fired, the officers said, two in quick succession which passed over the port quarter, and a third soon after, which dropped into the water astern. The lifeboats were swung out, the crew of 42 and the 24 hostlers donned preservers and the ship put on full speed. The craft which attacked was not sighted at any time, owing partly to weather conditions, and the officers of the Siamane Prince were unable to say whether their vessel was pursued. The attack took place at 7 a. m., 200 miles at sea, while a high wind was blowing and with heavy waves running. No attempt was made to torpedo the ship, which is owned by Furness, Withy and Co., and which carried 10 passengers. The officers of the vessel judged that the attacking boat was about one mile distant.

FARMERS' UNION WILL STAND BY FRIENDS

PALATKA, Fla., Nov. 21.—"The Farmers' union will stand by its friends wherever it finds them," declared President Charles S. Barrett, addressing the annual convention of the national farmers' organization which opened here today.

"The union has never been in partisan politics and will not be," continued Mr. Barrett. "Yet right here you may take from me that no amount of partisan bashing shall drive the union from the support of its friends nor force it to sustain its political enemies. Knowing itself its powers and limitations, the union is determined to control itself. This simply means that the union is not going to take its orders and directions from the outside. It means that the union is sane, self-sustaining and self-sufficing. It will fearlessly and steadily exercise its power for the betterment of the union, the producers of life necessities, and the uplift of the human race."

Mr. Barrett warned the union against pretended friends "who, when the important moment comes do not hesitate to dodge the issue."

As an indication of the growth of the Farmers' union during the year,

President Barrett said, charters had been granted to two new state organizations, Montana and North Dakota and three others were nearly ready. Equally important, he pointed out, was the steady development of the union's co-operative business enterprises which were getting better and more substantial results practically everywhere.

"If we would learn more as producers of wealth, we must learn more as wealth producers," said Mr. Barrett. "We must know enough to co-operate to secure and realize the equitable worth of our work."

Through the efforts of organized farmers, Mr. Barrett declared, the rural free delivery, the parcels post, the new rural credits law and better rural schools had been achieved. What had been accomplished was nothing, he said, to what would be accomplished by co-operative effort.

NOT TO RECOGNIZE NEW KINGDOM OF POLAND

SWISS GOVERNMENT TAKES ACTION—DECISION AFTER THE WAR IS OVER

THIS SIMPLE LAXATIVE A HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Should Have a Place in Every Home.

Constipation, or inaction of the bowels, a condition that nearly every one experiences with more or less frequency, is the direct cause of much disease. When the bowels become clogged with refuse from the stomach, foul gases and poisons are generated, and unless the congestion is quickly relieved the system becomes weakened and most susceptible to attack.

Various remedies to relieve constipation are prescribed, but many of these contain cathartic or purgative agents that are harsh and violent in their action and shock the system. The most effective remedy is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

The Hon. John D. Keister of Brandywine, W. Va., who has represented his district in the state legislature for six years, writes that he uses Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and finds it a splendid laxative, easy to take and mild, yet positive, in its action, and that it should be in every household for use when needed.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists in all parts of the United States and costs only fifty cents a bottle. It contains no opiate or narcotic drug, does not gripe, and is recommended as a family laxative, mild enough for the tiniest babe, yet sufficiently powerful to act easily on the strongest constitution.

To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure to get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

YALE AND PRINCETON HAVE MET 42 TIMES

When the Princeton Tiger and Yale Bulldog waded into each other last Saturday it was the forty-second occasion on which the two colleges battled for football supremacy. It was forty-three years ago, on November 15, 1873, that Princeton and Yale first clashed on the gridiron. Intercollegiate football was then in its infancy, and the first Princeton-Yale game was the first Princeton-Yale game played memorable as being the first played under the code of rules which had just been adopted at a meeting of representatives of Princeton, Yale and Rutgers. These rules followed the principles of the association game, and were not acceptable to Harvard, which played unadorned English Rugby. The first Princeton-Yale game was won by the sons of Old Nassau, the score being 3 goals to 0, and New Haven, the scene of the struggle, was bathed in gloom. The two colleges did not meet on the gridiron again until 72 when Old Eli turned the tables, winning by 2 goals to 0. This contest like several that came after, was pulled off in Hoboken. Up to twenty years ago nearly all of the Yale-Princeton clashes were staged in New York, Hoboken or Brooklyn, but since 1897 they have alternated between New Haven and Princeton. Of the forty-one games played to date, Yale has won twenty-two, Princeton ten, and the remaining nine have been ties.

JOHNSON IN FAVOR OF THIRD BIG LEAGUE

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, "would not oppose" the formation of a third major league, he said today, when recent gossip concerning such an organization was brought to his attention. "In fact," said Johnson, "I rather like the idea."

As Johnson was the foremost foe of the federal league, his attitude was regarded with unusual interest. Critics suggested in connection with a third league are Baltimore, Buffalo, Newark, and Toronto, Toledo, Indianapolis, Louisville and Milwaukee. The plans at present discussed is to raise these cities to major league standing by placing them outside the draft.

QUARTERBACK IS NOT IMPORTANT IN NEW GAME

Quarterbacks, once the most vital cogs in football machines have become unimportant parts of the new juggernaut. And it is all because of this new football game that has come among us.

In the olden days the entire team was built around the quarterback. He figured in practically every offensive play. Now teams play—and win—with quarterbacks doing little more than chanting signals.

Almost all the tossers of the forward pass are fullbacks or halfbacks. Most of the receivers are ends or associate halfbacks. The majority of punters and drop kickers are halfbacks or fullbacks. So it can be seen that whenever a forward pass, a punt or a drop kick is made the quarterback has nothing to do but sing out a few numbers—an easy job which any other player could do if the "pivot" man wasn't in the immediate neighborhood.

A quarterback is useful in an offensive mass play or in dashes around the ends—but he isn't an essential member of the team even then. Direct passing from the center to the man who is to carry the ball has made the quarterback unnecessary as a relay man. Very frequently games are played in which the quarterback handles the ball only two or three times in a period, unless he is a husky quarterback of the Charlie Barrett type, who can smash a line or circle a wing with the power and skill of a halfback or fullback.

STORMY SESSION OF THE A. A. U. LAST NIGHT

PROFESSIONALS WILL BE ALLOWED
TO ACT IN COUNCILS OF THE UNION

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Because the knowledge they possess is needed to promote the best interest of the Amateur Athletic union, professionals will be allowed to act in the councils of the union. This action was taken after a stormy session, which marked the close of the organization's annual meeting late last night.

The convention by a large majority rejected two of the most important proposals of the revised constitution presented for adoption. One was a clause which would have kept out of the legislative affairs of the union a man who could not be an amateur in every sense of the word. Another was the proposed regulation which would have denied with the union a privilege granted them at the annual meeting two years ago.

Virtually all the other features of the new code were adopted. These include the new definition of an amateur, the acts of debarment which would bar every athlete who, in any way infringes the prescribed regulations; the pardoning power which invests the board of governors with authority to reinstate debarred athletes after they have suffered the prescribed penance; and the penalties for violations of all the enumerated acts which include fraud, capitalization of athletic fame, coaching and compelling for money.

The amendment relating to women swimmers, as adopted reads: "Registration shall be granted to women for swimming events confined exclusively to women but for only such events."

The next annual convention will be at St. Louis.

HARVARD WILL VISIT BOWL
CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 21.—The Harvard football management announced today that the Crimson squad which will go to New Haven for the game with Yale next Saturday will leave on Thursday morning. Immediately after their arrival at New Haven the players will go to the Yale bowl, where they will spend the rest of the afternoon in acquainting themselves with local conditions.

Late in the day they will go to a hotel at New London which will be their headquarters until the game. They will practice on the baseball diamond there. If the weather is favorable the backs may be taken to New Haven on Friday afternoon for another visit to the bowl.

The last home practice today and tomorrow probably will determine the final make-up of the eleven which will be started against Yale. Several positions are still uncertain.

EXPECT 50,000 AT GAME
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—Yale's football gladiators polished their armor today in preparation for the Harvard invasion on Saturday. The regulars emerged from the Princeton game in fair physical shape. Johnny Mack and his assistants will now devote their energies to the task of rounding the men into top form.

The return of Travers Studia, the star quarter who was kept out of Saturday's game by illness is encouraging to the Eli cohorts. The practice during the week will be light with only two scrimmages.

Thorough preparation have been made for handling the immense crowd of some 50,000 which will witness the classic. The extra seats at the bowl are ready. Thirty-five thousand of the spectators will come here on 55 special railroad trains. The bulk of the remainder will make the trip by automobile. Ten thousand machines, it is expected, will be parked near the amphitheatre.

NAVY IN FINAL WORKOUTS
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 21.—The final instructions and the final work of smoothing up their machine is being given by the Navy football coaches this week in preparation for the big game with Army at New York on Saturday.

Notwithstanding the fact that Navy must use many new men against the West Point backfield of veterans, there is a growing confidence here that the sailors will be victorious this year. The final selection of 11 men to carry the colors has not been made.

ARMY-NAVY GAME SATURDAY
WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 21.—The return of Butler, a giant tackle of three years' experience to the Army football squad today is the feature of the cadets' final drive for Saturday's game with the Navy. Butler was saddened to bolster what was considered as the weak side of the Army's line. The team will be one of the heaviest sent out of West Point in years.

PERRY COLBY CAPTAIN
WATERVILLE, Me., Nov. 21.—Ernest J. Perry of Lawrence, Mass., was yesterday elected captain of the Colby college football team for 1917. He prepared for college at Lawrence high, where he was captain his senior year. He plays right end and is the unanimous choice for the all-Maine team in that position. He is a sophomore and succeeds Edward Cawley of Lowell.

ROBINSON BEATS RIVERS
GLOUCESTER, Nov. 21.—George Robinson of Cambridge won the decision over Gloucester Joe Rivers in a 12-round bout staged by the Lenox A.C. last night. Plenty of hard punches were swapped freely, but little damage was done. It was the general opinion that a draw would have been a better decision. In a semi-final round bout, Battling Sylva of Gloucester went in a draw with Kid Green of Cambridge.

OPERATIVES FAVOR INCREASE
The members of Local 25, Cotton Weavers' Union held a meeting last evening at their quarters, 32 Middle St., and the organization went on record as favoring the application for an increase in wages in local mills, and the matter will be turned over to the Lowell Textile council.

POLLS OPENED AT NOON

today is expected to be light. The polls opened at noon and will close at night at 8 p. m. Since city elections have become non-partisan the campaigns have grown tame but this year there was an added reaction after the strenuous state and presidential contest.

In some sections it is expected that the women will vote in fairly representative numbers. They will be given a special ballot on which will appear only the names of the candidates for school committee.

From the candidates who are voted on today will be selected four names for alderman and six for school committee. These will be put on the election ballot and will be voted on at the city elections. Those who have not yet voted should do so before 8 p. m. and should remember to vote for as many candidates as there are offices to be filled—and no more.

The Quietest Ever

Of all the elections, preliminary or otherwise, to be held in Lowell, the present primary, as an easy-going, mention-me-not, gumshoe, what, proposition, takes the cake. The city has seen some quiet elections, but the quietest of them all was the one held last night. Edward J. Tierney, candidate for alderman, was the only candidate to make out door speeches. Mr. Tierney held 14 meetings last evening and made as many speeches. Another candidate for alderman was to have taken the stump Thursday evening, but he evidently changed his mind as he has not been heard from.

Several of the candidates were around to the different clubs last evening the biggest number appearing at the South End club. But there didn't seem to be any of the old-time electioneering. The quietest thing you know that enough voters will stay at home to nominate any of the defeated candidates. It will require a whole lot of work and persuasion to get out anything like a normal vote.

There have been many reasons given for the lack of interest in the present election. One wiseacre lays it to the fact that the candidates have no jobs to offer. He points to the fact, too, that the year is peculiar to itself; that heretofore the average candidate's stock in trade was the number of jobs he had to offer. But this year city jobs are going begging. There are so many other places to work and so many other jobs at better pay that the city job, once so much sought after, has been relegated to a back seat and just for that the average candidate for office has lost his principal asset. Duncan and Putnam are the only aldermanic candidates who can point to what they have done for the city during the last two years, for they are the only two who have had an opportunity to do anything, and they are not saying very much about it except what one reads to their advertisements.

Personal likes and dislikes will cut more or less figure in this as in all other elections and they do say that some old scores are being reopened; that hatchets supposed to have been buried have been given the once over on the grindstone and are ready for certain candidates and "Thanksgiving turkeys as well. But the voter's plain duty is to go to the polls and vote for the men whom he believes will serve the city's best interests. The four highest men in the aldermanic contest and the six highest in the school

AFFILIATION URGED

the organizations could co-operate with the same purpose as if they were officially affiliated. He also made it plain that the brotherhoods were not bringing their 8-hour day "trouble" to the federation for support.

"I am about as anxious as you are to go to work for the 8-hour day for all classes. If we can't get it peacefully, we will fight for it."

Lee said that some sort of affiliation should be effected to fight any proposed arbitration legislation which might be unfair to labor. President Wilson plans such legislation, Lee said, and it should be carefully watched. He declared that congress had no right to pass any law compelling a man to work, provided he was not in prison, if he did not want to and he did not think it would do so.

Cheers For Pres. Wilson

Prolonged cheering followed praise of President Wilson by Lee.

"It took more courage for him to write across the front pages of the newspapers of this country that he was for an 8-hour work day than would have taken for him to have written that this country was at war with Mexico," he said. "Our principal object now is to help the president and the men in both branches of congress to make good their promises to us. I believe they will do it."

Failure of the brotherhoods and the federation to affiliate before now has not been wholly the fault of either side, he said. He declared that invitations had come to the brotherhoods to appear before the federation meeting, but they have not been accepted. "We are nearer affiliation today than we ever have been before," he said.

Will Not Strike

"I know that a large percentage of our members will be glad to know that we have been here and spoken to you today. It is absolutely necessary for us who are organized to get together and I say that we shall go the limit to obtain better conditions, particularly for men on lines that the railroad now will not permit to organize. We will not strike, or go out to help them, but we will use our best efforts to obtain better conditions for them."

Lee paid his respects to the "Wall street crowd," and declared that now an election had been held without the assistance of New York, Indiana or Illinois, labor should not fail to retain its power this year.

Lee also reviewed the conference which led to the enactment of the Adamson eight hour day law last September and charged the broad heads with playing unfairly with the president at that time. The brotherhoods, he declared, had no desire that the Adamson bill be enacted into law, but inasmuch as it had become a law, they were trying to live up to it.

W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen and Enginemen, in his remarks declared that the danger that confronts all working people today is the "coercion or subordination of the public press by the master class."

"The coming of the penny paper," he added, "has done more than anything else to place the press under the domination of advertisers. Unfortunately labor has but little to do with advertising—practically all the advertisements come from the master class."

Mr. Carter declared that when the railroad brotherhoods began the eight hour movement a year ago, "a few men in New York City who direct the affairs of all the railroads," undertook one of the greatest advertising campaigns the world has ever witnessed.

"I have positive evidence from one of the leading advertising agencies," Mr. Carter said, "that provision was made to advertise in 3000 daily and 14,000 weekly papers. The cost of it—many millions of dollars' worth of advertising to prejudice the public against the brotherhoods."

Press Gompers

President Gompers, in the course of his speech said:

"We expect that the railroad brotherhoods will on January 1st next inaugurate the eight hour work day and I think I can truly say to you that whatever arises whatever betides you have the undivided support of the citizenship of this country. The capitalists show their colors. They met and gave out a declaration that they were going to antagonize every effort put forth by organized labor."

"When the money power of the United States failed in the attempt to corrupt the electorate and when their plans were upset by the votes of the citizenship of the United States, the capitalists showed their colors. They met and gave out a declaration that they were going to antagonize every effort put forth by organized labor."

"But men of wealth, I say to you be careful how far you go. There is a limit even to human endurance. They throw down the gauntlet and we accept the challenge. When the time comes it will be another case of 'Lay on Macduff.' And damned be him who first cries 'Hold, Enough!'"

1918 NAVAL ESTIMATES TO BREAK ALL RECORDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—While Secretary Daniels was awarding contracts yesterday for armor plate for the four battleships authorized at the last session of congress and approving plans for an ammunition ship, the last vessel designed for the 1917 building program, the appropriation subcommittee of the house's naval committee began work on the 1918 estimate, the heaviest in American history to be presented to congress this winter.

The navy department's 1918 figures contemplate construction of half of the ships yet to be built in the great three-year program, and show appropriations of $378,151,701, or more from $600 to $1700 per torpedo, depending on the system of calculations employed. At the Newport station, where the bulk of the navy's torpedoes are produced, the amendment said, the cost of production was from $1600 to $2100 below the best prices obtainable from private manufacturers.

Admiral Strauss will appear before the committee again tomorrow and will be followed by other bureau chiefs and finally by Secretary Daniels and members of the general board.

The ammunition ship for which the secretary approved plans is the first craft of the kind ever designed for the navy. She will have a displacement of 10,000 tons with a cargo of powder and shells. Annual facilities are provided for handling explosives aboard, and the holds will be equipped with cooling facilities to insure the regulation temperature. Large refrigeration space will make her easily convertible into a supply vessel. Propelling machinery is designed for either coal or fuel oil. A defensive armament includes four five-inch rapid fire guns and two three-inch anti-aircraft guns. Bids are being received from shipbuilders and the department hopes to be able to open them by the first of the year.

PRASE PAPERS THAT REFUSE LIQUOR ADS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 21.—The National Women's Christian Temperance union in annual session yesterday adopted a resolution commending the 850 daily newspapers and 85 magazines in the country which refused to refuse liquor advertisements. The delegates pledged themselves and each member of the organization to use their influence in every way possible in their respective communities to get newspapers now carrying such advertising matter to drop it at the expiration of present contracts.

Other resolutions introduced in the report of the resolutions committee also were adopted. Among them was one which said the organization believed in equal political rights for men and women and that the ballot in the hands of women is a weapon for the destruction of the liquor traffic. The union also went on record as favoring the wage and equal pay for equal services and as believing in justice as opposed to commercial greed. A pledge was given to continue the fight for constitutional prohibition, both state and national.

The principal speaker today was Anthony C. Campitelli, of the United States bureau of immigration. He reviewed the activities of the employment bureau conducted by the federal government, said that the number of persons placed for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915, was 75,195, and in 1916, 100,000. He also expected 200,000 persons to find work through the activities of the bureau.

BABIES AT SESSION
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 21.—The National Women's Christian Temperance union convention sessions opened today with the usual efficiency congress. Among the subjects discussed was "Our Financial Problems," by Mrs. Katherine R. Patterson of Santa Fe, N. M. This afternoon the custom of dedicating babies to temperance work was observed, many children being carried to the platform by their mothers and there receiving a white ribbon in token of the attitude on the liquor question planned for them.

TO RELIEVE TRAFFIC CONGESTION IN BOSTON

ALL STREET CARS TO BE REMOVED FROM WASHINGTON ST. FROM 9 A. M. TO 7 P. M.

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—All street cars will be removed from Washington street between Franklin and Boylston streets, from 9 a. m. until 7 p. m., from Dec. 4 to Jan. 12. The city is also contemplating closing Washington street to teams and automobiles traveling south during the same period.

It is planned to have cars run via Postoffice square, or give transfers to the tunnel. The Cambridge subway will, by Dec. 4, be operated to the South station. It is expected.

The city council yesterday, following a lengthy conference at which the speakers were President Brush of the Elevated, Street Commissioner Goodwin, Corporation Counsel Sullivan, and representatives of various retail stores, voted to request the Elevated to divert its street cars during this period. Tomorrow a public hearing is scheduled by the street commissioners to consider the restricting of Washington street to south-bound vehicular traffic.

The city council is adopting the expedient in an attempt to relieve the annual crush in the shopping district during the Christmas rush, and the after-Christmas rush due to the returning and exchange of gifts, together with the bargain sales that occur just after the holidays. In case it is found that the scheme is both practicable and popular, it may be adopted permanently. A suggestion that the restriction apply during the night as well as the day was rejected by the council on the grounds that there is no rush in the evening, and that the theater should be accessible by surface cars.

JUDGE REFUSES TO PRESIDE
THOMAS F. LEE, Mont., Nov. 21. Judge B. L. McCulloch of Sanders county disqualified himself yesterday rather than preside at the trial of William Edith Colby, a newspaper woman charged with the murder of A. C. Thomas, a politician, John Manire, editor, and A. S. Ainsworth, manager of the paper on which Miss Colby worked, are held as accessories. Judge McCulloch said his reasons for not desiring to preside at the trial were too personal to be explained, and called Judge Clements of Helena to the bench.

KELLEHER IS INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Thomas H. Kelleher, an inmate of the State Infirmary at Tewksbury, was indicted by the Middlesex Grand Jury, in special session at East Cambridge yesterday, on the charge of manslaughter. Kelleher is charged with striking Daniel Cronin, another inmate, over the head with a spade Oct. 16, thereby causing his death. Kelleher is now confined in the Worcester insane asylum.

Other cases reported were: Salem K. Husson of Lowell, for forging and uttering in connection with a promissory note, and a second indictment for larceny; Joseph L. Murphy, larceny of $125 at Cambridge Nov. 16, from Thos. E. Williams; John L. Kadra, larceny Oct. 23 at Medford, $26; Rachel B. Jackson and Edward C. Connors, breaking and entering and larceny, July 21, at Lowell. There were also three secret indictments. The jury reported to Judge Stevens, finishing their work for the year.

TEWKSBURY, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Margaret McDermott, aged about 65, of Tyler street, Lowell, was struck by an electric car south of the Wameet railroad station here last night, and received injuries on her face and body. PLEDGE THEMSELVES TO VOTE FOR LICENSE

BROCKTON, Nov. 21.—Michael DePasquale of 74 Lawrence street started residents of this no-license city yesterday when he declared that the Italian voters of the city had pledged themselves to vote for license at the coming municipal election, because they felt that no more liquor could be sold in Brockton under a license regime than was dispensed at present, and that the city would derive a considerable income from licensed saloons.

"Liquor comes into this city in astonishingly large quantities ever day and is sold by kitchen bar rooms and drug stores," says the statement prepared by the Italians and given out for publication by DePasquale. "The prices are much higher than in Boston. The fact that the law has been flagrantly violated ever since it went into effect is generally known. If the city should go license this year it would drive out the lawless system and give the city the benefit of fees from 62 saloons so we would have more money for schools, streets and sidewalks."

BENJAMIN BUCK HELD FOR SUPERIOR COURT
IN SUM OF $9000

When the case of Benjamin Buck of Tewksbury, charged with assault with intent to murder Capt. James Brogan and Patrolmen Clyde R. Aldrich and James Conditine was called in police court this morning, his counsel, Melvin G. Rogers, waived examination and pleaded with Judge Enright to have the bail reduced, but his Honor refused and the defendant was held for the superior court in the sum of $9000.

In opening Lawyer Rogers asked the court to reduce the bail to $1000 inasmuch as the seriousness of the assault was not as great as was feared at the time of the shooting. He said the superintendent of the U. S. Cartridge Co., where Buck was employed, was willing to give him back his old job, but the court refused to decrease the bail on the grounds that the man deliberately fired at three police officers and that even though the injuries would not prove fatal, the injuries were serious.

FOR BREMEN

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 21.—The German submarine Deutschland sailed for Bremen shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Deutschland left at 2:30 p. m. She was flying her flags and the crew was all on deck, as she passed down the harbor. One of the Scott company's tugs was at the pier when she started but the undersea craft had no need of assistance. The tug followed her down the river.

This was the second start of the Deutschland for home from this port. The first was made early last Friday morning when under convoy of the tugs T. A. Scott, Jr., and Cassie, she slipped quietly out of her berth and down the river. Off Race Rock Light, however, she rammed and sank the T. A. Scott, Jr., with its crew, and had to return to her berth for repairs.

Meanwhile several suits for damages were filed, but yesterday bonds were filed to cover these suits and with repairs completed the freighter was only waiting for favorable conditions before again starting homeward.

After passing the lighthouse at the entrance to the harbor the Deutschland headed for the west, apparently intending to get a straight course for the Race to take advantage of the tide and wind in passing through the narrow passage.

Crowds gathered along both sides of the river to watch the progress of the boat down the harbor.

As a consequence the despatch says the Germans are now calling men of all classes to the police stations for examination as to the identity of their papers. These men are said to be given the choice of a German labor contract of three or six months or immediate deportation to Germany.

LAST WORD OF
U. S. ON BORDER
PROPOSALS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 21.—The American commissioners today gave to the Mexican commissioners what is understood to be the last opportunity for an amicable settlement of the questions that have arisen because of Carranza's failure to provide adequate protection for life and property along the international border.

At a joint session, Secretary of the Interior Lane as chairman of the American commission, informed Mr. Carranza's representatives that the American punitive expedition would be withdrawn within a reasonable time and under conditions that would not impair the dignity of the American government or leave unprotected the territory just south of the border now patrolled by the Americans. Incident to such withdrawal he outlined the manner in which the American government was prepared to guard the long line of frontier to run down and punish any marauding band that attempted a crossing into the United States. He made it clear to the Mexicans that this government would not tolerate any restrictions on the pursuit of bandits by American troops.

How Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican commission, and his colleagues received what is regarded as the last word of the American commissioners was not expected to be known until after the session came to an end this afternoon. When Mr. Lane went into the conference room this morning he carried in with him the assurance of the president that he had unqualified backing of his plan. The Mexicans were aware of the president's attitude and it was regarded as probable that they would recede from the position they had taken.

The Mexican commissioners retired to their own rooms for consideration of the American proposition and were still sequestered when the American delegates adjourned until afternoon. The reception of the plan by the Mexicans was unmarked by any comment. No debate was engaged in, the Mexicans quietly suggesting that they would meet the Americans after further studying the plan.

Whether the Mexicans will be prepared to return an answer today was not known. It was indicated that there was no desire on the part of the Americans to force an announcement without due time for consideration being accorded.

FOOD SITUATION, SAYS COMMITTEE

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The royal provision committee of Norway has unanimously decided that a ticket system ought to be instituted to meet the food situation according to a Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., quoting the Norwegian food minister. At a meeting in Christiania the minister said that a great question had arisen as to whether the population of Norway should be put on a short food allowance. The minister added that neighboring neutral countries were organizing themselves as if they were participating in the war and that in Sweden the German ticket system for grain and flour would be introduced.

AMBULANCE BUSY

Four Calls Responded to in Quick Succession This Forenoon—Injured Men Taken to Hospital

The ambulance was kept quite busy this forenoon responding to accident calls. The first call was received at 7:25 o'clock for the removal of Henry T. Agn of Lawrence from East Bleachery street, to St. John's hospital, after the man had injured his ankle in a fall on the street.

Twenty-five minutes later the ambulance was called to Merrimack street, where Michael Foley of East Burnside street injured his head in a fall from a staging. He was removed to the Lowell hospital.

At 8:20 o'clock another call was sent in for the ambulance to go to the Tremont & Suffolk mills, where James McLaughlin of Mammoth road had broken his thumb. He was taken to the Lowell hospital.

Thomas Conley of 11 McGovern's court fell from a staging at 10:41 o'clock while working at the Blacksmith shop of V. Provencier in West Third street and broke his ankle. He was removed in the ambulance to St. John's hospital.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 21.—Affiliation of the members of the American Federation of Labor and the four big railroad brotherhoods for effecting the general betterment of labor was urged today before the federation convention here by the brotherhood heads and President Samuel A. Gompers. Delegates, who crowded the hall cheered all of the speakers enthusiastically.

"We must hug the ground or we will

"It is a great comfort to know," President Gompers said, "that the time is not far distant when the great brotherhoods will be a part of the American Federation of Labor."

Lee explained that the laws of the brotherhoods now prevent an official affiliation with the federation until after their convention is held, but he insisted that between now and that time

53 TAKEN OFF STRANDED U. S.
STEAMER

DOVER, Nov. 21, 10 a. m.—Fifty three passengers and crew of the American steamer Sibiria, stranded on Goodwin's bank, landed at Deal today by the Kingsdown lifeboat.

The rescued persons from the Sibiria, which stranded during yesterday's gale had a distressing experience during the 24 hours they were on the steamer awaiting assistance. In momentary peril of the steamer being engulfed in the treacherous quicksands.

Frutless efforts were made yesterday by lifeboats from neighboring stations to rescue the passengers. Several men of the lifeboat crews were injured and the boats narrowly escaped destruction. The Sibiria is still around.

It was during a violent southeasterly gale that the Sibiria was driven ashore, near the spot where the Italian steamship Val Salice, whose crew was rescued yesterday, grounded. Attempts were made all yesterday by the Deal and Ramsgate lifeboats to rescue those on the Sibiria who were huddled together on the bridge. Two lifeboats were driven back badly damaged.

Last evening volunteers were called for to man the only boat remaining intact. A British patrol boat towed the Sibiria as near as possible to the Sibiria. The searchlights of the patrol boat were fixed on the Sibiria, showing that all but the bridge had disappeared. While trying to get alongside the steamship the lifeboat was thrown on its side by the heavy sea and filled with water, but righted itself. The fight continued until the rescue was effected.

The lifeboat was again taken in tow by the patrol boat which brought her to the Downs.

TWO DELEGATES FROM WILD
TRIBES TAKE SEATS IN LOWER HOUSE

MANILA, Oct. 15. (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The new Philippine congress, convened under the Philippine bill which was signed by President Wilson on Aug. 29, met today and for the first time in the history of the government of the islands, a full blooded Moro took his seat in the upper house. The Moro senator is Hadji Ratu, for many years prime minister of the sultan of Sulu, that unofficial functionary of the American government who wields an immense influence among the Mohammedans of the Sulu archipelago and of the far east generally.

Two other full blooded Moros took their seats in the lower house side by side with two delegates from the wild tribes—one an Igorot and the other an Ifugao. The tribes these men represent stepped out of savagery only yesterday and their names are linked with some of the bloodiest deeds in Philippine history.

REPUBLICANS ADMIT DEFEAT IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Little likelihood of a split electoral vote in California was seen here today by the republicans who have checked the unofficial election figures of fifty of the state's 58 counties. The eight missing counties, they include the most populous in the state will not develop any serious discrepancies, according to some of the party leaders who say they have closely followed the trend of the canvass being made by the various county officials.

President Wilson's plurality, according to the check of the republicans, will not be less than 3118. These figures it was stated did not take into consideration the total from the eight counties whose returns are yet to be filed with the secretary of state.

GERMANS ADMIT SINKING LINER ARABIA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Announcement by the semi-official Overseas news agency that a German submarine sank the British liner Arabia made a deep impression in official quarters yesterday and apparently removed all possibility that this case might take its place with that of the Persia, sunk in the Mediterranean long ago in some manner never cleared up. The British admiralty said the Persia was torpedoed without warning, but none of the central powers would admit responsibility for it. Some officials expressed surprise that the attack upon the Arabia had been semi-officially admitted. It was suggested that the Overseas despatch might mean a test in this of the "armed ship" controversy with the United States, or that in some way a minor official, hostile to the Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's submarine policy, might have allowed the despatch to get out, seeing in it an opportunity to force the issue. It has been known here for some time that Germany would make a bitter fight against the defense of the right of the sea.

The contention that the Arabia was an armed transport because she carried a 15-centimeter gun and had workmen and war munitions aboard is not regarded here as being justified. The ship was a Peninsula & Orient passenger liner, with many passengers. There was one American on her way to India. He has made an affidavit which has been forwarded to the state department.

ARREST BOSTON DOCTOR IN PITTSBURG

DR. NOBLE, IN WHOSE OFFICE
"DOPE" RAID WAS MADE, HELD
FOR POLICE

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Dr. Lemuel F. Noble, whose office at 143 Massachusetts avenue, was raided a week ago by police, headed by Assistant District Attorney Webber, was arrested yesterday in Pittsburg on a secret indictment charging him with conspiring to illegally distribute habit-forming drugs. He is lodged in the Central police station at Pittsburg and is being held to await the arrival of a police officer from Boston with requisition papers.

He was making an automobile trip with two companions and his movements had been watched by Pinkerton operators. His two companions were detained several hours and released after they had given the police a statement.

Dr. Noble was not in this city when his office was raided. He had travelled by automobile from Boston to Buffalo and from there to Erie, and his automobile had been shipped from Erie to Pittsburg. The car was unloaded yesterday, and it was the doctor's intention to leave Pittsburg last night.

The raid on Dr. Noble's office at 143 Massachusetts avenue was the most sensational this city has seen in years. Twenty-five persons, most of them women, were found in the office, and said to be addicted to the drug habit. The police officer, who secured information that led to the raid through a telegram addressed to Dr. Noble in New York, which requested him to come back because business was "good."

GERMAN REPLY IN ROWANMORE CASE

BERLIN, Nov. 20, via London, Nov. 21.—Secretary Joseph C. Grew of the American embassy, received today the German reply in regard to the sinking of the British steamer Rowanmore and three steamers which were lost in September. In regard to the Rowanmore the German government denies that the submarine fired upon lifeboats containing members of the crew and maintains that the Rowanmore was destroyed in full accordance with the rules of international law.

Readings descriptive of the physical and racial conditions of the islands were given by Miss MacKenzie, Miss Lillian Latt, Miss Berrie Scott, Miss Esther Gray and Miss John MacKenzie. A pleasing duet, "The Valley Stood in His Garden," was sung by Mrs. Gordon and Miss MacKenzie. Two readings, "Home Again" and "The Blessing," were given by Miss Justine MacDonald and Miss Myrtle Tait.

tent to murder was there. The judge then called Capt. Brogan and the two patrolmen to the witness stand and after ascertaining that the three had been struck by the shot, he found probable cause and ordered the case to the superior court which will open on the first Monday in January, and fixed the bail at $9000.

Trespassing on Land
James Purcell, David Gerrish, Fred Christie and Fred L. Dawling were arraigned on a complaint charging them with trespassing on land owned by Butler Ames and they admitted their guilt. Mr. Ames informed the court that he did not wish to prosecute the young men but simply wanted to give them a warning and after he withdrew the complaint the defendants were discharged.

Neglect of Wife
Inasmuch as the wife was not present in court and her whereabouts could not be known, the case of Albert I. Strout, who was charged with neglect of his wife, was dismissed.

Mrs. Frank H. Harris informed the court this morning that she has not been living with her husband for two years, but a few days ago he went to her house in a drunken condition and assaulted her by striking her on the mouth with his fist. She stated she does not want to have anything to do with him, for she can support herself. Harris promised to keep away from his better half and the court handed him a suspended sentence of five months to the house of correction.

State Farm Sentence

Hannah J. Gallagher, who was yesterday given a suspended sentence to the state farm after being found guilty of drunkenness, was in again this morning and given a free ticket to the state farm. It seems that Hannah was found under the influence of liquor at Liberty square only a few hours after she left the court room by Sergt. Maguire and Patrolman Kennedy. At the time she complained of having dislocated her ankle and she was sent to the station for examination, but her statement was denied by the city physician. When her case was called this morning Hannah said: "I didn't have a drink, Your Honor." The testimony of the police officers was too strong, however, and Hannah was given an assignment to the state farm.

which are alleged to be unfit for further service, and which have been condemned by veterinarians.

One of the unsatisfactory horses is on truck 2. Though not an old horse as compared with others in use in the department, he is always falling down and is a menace. Though treated for some time he has not responded and the fire officials say there is no hope of improvement.

Another of the horses is on Engine 1. This animal has been in the department for 10 or 12 years. He is afflicted with the heaves and is blind in one eye. He has been driven carefully but it is claimed that he is wholly unfit for service and that if he is driven much longer there is sure to be trouble.

The third horse which Chief Saunders and Commissioner Putnam want to have replaced, is attached to truck 1. The animal is 20 years old and has been in the department 14 or 15 years. He suffers from a swollen leg which does not respond to treatment.

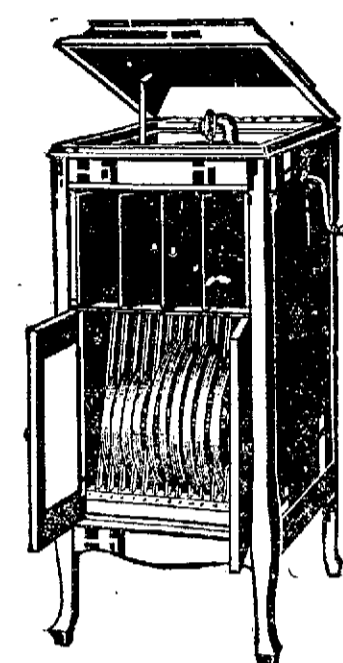

The officials say that because of the heavy nature of the apparatus which these horses have been drawing, the department needs three sound heavy horses which at the present time would cost in the neighborhood of

Offers for Chassis

Bids have been coming in from manufacturers of motor apparatus for the chassis for which an appropriation of $3500 was made some time ago. At the present time, Commissioner Putnam has the bids of the White Motor company, the International Motor company, which has submitted a Mack truck, and the makers of the Garford truck. Although the prices named will not be given out until the bids are all in, they are said to be favorable.

This motor apparatus is meant to take the place of the heavy truck which has been in West Sixth street house but which has been used but little and which has been generally unsatisfactory. The plan is to use the ladders and other equipment and thus reduce the price of the apparatus by so much.

Commissioner Putnam says that the White truck offered is like one constructed specially for the Quincy fire department and is very satisfactory. The Quincy apparatus cost $2000, but it is on a more elaborate scale than Lowell would want. The chief trouble with the local truck is its great weight and height, but these defects can be remedied, it is hoped, when the apparatus is set on a modern chassis.

Contagious Hospital

Frederick M. Melloy has set up bathtubs at the site of the contagious hospital under the direction of City Engineer Keating and he is about to do all the preliminary work as soon as possible. The contract for the work has been prepared in the city solicitor's office but has not yet been signed.

Minor Changes

A change in the contract with the firm of L. A. Derby & Co., electricians, involving an expenditure of about $200, has just passed through the city solicitor's office. It has to do with the fixtures in the corridor at the Moody street entrance of the Memorial building. The style of the lights has been changed a little and changes have been made in the switch arrangements.

Park Activities

At the present time the park department is drawing sand from the city banks at the Chelsea Street hospital and storing it in the landstands in the North and South commons and at the Lenox street city stables. This sand will be used for the walks on the parks and commons.

The threatened opposition to the flooding of Sheld park has been materialized to some extent, and the superintendent does not now anticipate any trouble. Two years ago a hearing was granted several remonstrants from the vicinity but the source of the most trouble has been removed by filling in. If there had been enough money this year all of the low spaces would have been graded and filled in, but it will have to be done for another year.

Permits

Among the permits issued at the lands and buildings department have been one for a four-apartment building at 5-7-9-11 Crescent street to Peleg Caddell, estimated cost $6000, and to Francis Lane for dwelling at 1299 Middlesex street, estimated cost $2200.

School Fire Drills

Mr. McDonald told of his experiences with school buildings and he said he is particularly interested in fire drills, for fire drills in schools have a lot to do with the number of egresses. "If the pupils of a school are properly trained as far as fire drills are concerned then the number of egresses can be lessened. It will take a little time, but I expect to get around to all the public and private schools of the city and test the children's ability, and quickness in leaving the building after a fire alarm has been sounded."

I have had no difficulty in the past and I hope the same spirit which prevailed in my former district between the citizens and myself will prevail in my new district. My dealings will be with the city inspector of buildings and the local contractors and their aim is my aim. I don't expect to rush things but will endeavor to go along with my work in a satisfactory manner to all concerned. I will deal especially with theatres, public meeting halls, places of assembly, public buildings and schools, and my only purpose is to educate the

Scientists have revealed some amazing facts regarding the functions of the blood and its relation to health. To many, the blood is simply a necessary part of the body, which takes care of itself. A microscopic examination of one drop of blood shows millions of minute bodies or corpuscles, each an individual life force. The life of a corpuscle is usually six weeks and must be replaced, science tells us, at the startling rate of 8,000,000 per second.

Good blood is the foundation of good health and can only be attained through a stomach in good condition.

The source of most ills is traceable directly to the stomach, which acts as a power plant, converting the food we eat into blood. Like all machinery the stomach occasionally fails in its duties and requires assistance to put it in proper condition.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

a product of nature, being made from clean wholesome grain thoroughly malted, is invaluable in assisting the stomach in its important duties, by stimulating the flow of gastric juices necessary for the proper digestion of food. If the stomach is kept in good condition, health invariably follows.

For a Day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise.

"In accordance with ancient custom, and by and with the advice and consent of Council, I appoint Thursday, the thirtieth day of November, as a day of Thanksgiving and Praise. Our thanks should first be felt and spoken, not for the things that are material, but for those that minister to the spirit, for the things that make our Commonwealth more beautiful to look upon and better to live in, and that tell for a higher life and a fairer civilization. With our thanks for a system of government founded upon civil and religious liberty let us unite our prayers for that system's preservation. To our gratitude for what has been given us as a people let each one of us add thanks for the good that has come into his own life. Let us not forget that thanks for our blessings are indeed empty unless they are crowned by compassion for the sorrows of others and by the endeavor to make those sorrows lighter not only by our prayers but by our deeds.

"Let us devoutly pray to Almighty God for the speedy ending of the black winter of war that threatens to put out the light of Europe, and that mankind may be now and forever emancipated from its degrading servitude of war. It was long ago said that war 'lies in wait upon the rich meadow land of generous youth,' and from that time until now uncounted millions of the young flower of the race have been offered up in bloody sacrifice upon its hideous altar. War is the result of the ambitions and passions of older men, but the boys are the victims. Let us pray for the early coming of the day when war

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Col. Edward L. Logan of the Ninth regiment last night took direct issue with Adj. Gen. Pearson's ruling of yesterday that the men of the Ninth are entitled to additional pay to the amount of $8.49 each, which, according to Pearson, was withheld from the pay of the men for their eight days at Framingham and turned into the company funds through a misunderstanding on the part of the company commanders. Col. Logan says that there was never any question that the men were entitled to pay for their time at Framingham, prior to their departure for the Mexican border, but that the men themselves voted to turn the money into their company funds in order to supply themselves with the conveniences and comforts which they needed in Texas and which were not provided by the United States government.

The trouble over the alleged money due came about as a result of a protest made by 10 men of the regiment to the adjutant general yesterday. The men first sought to present their claims to Gov. McCall, but his excellency referred them to Adj. General Pearson.

They argued that they were entitled to $1.55 a day for their Framingham service, but said that the company commanders, acting erroneously under an old statute, assumed they had a right to withhold, for company maintenance, the regular allowance taken from their annual tour of duty pay. Consequently they received but $4 for eight days instead of $12.40.

After hearing the protests of the 10 men of the Ninth the adjutant general issued a statement in which he said the company commanders had erred, and declared that the men should receive $8.49 more.

When the matter was called to the attention of Col. Logan, he made it plain that the case had not been properly presented to the adjutant general.

INVEST $50,000,000 IN AMERICAN SECURITIES

JAPANESE MERCHANTS AND EXPORTERS DOING A BIG BUSINESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Within the last six months Japanese merchants and exporters have invested nearly $50,000,000 in American securities according to estimates in banking quarters. For the most part the securities were bonds, largely underlying railroad issues, although a substantial part consisted of mortgage bonds of industrial companies.

These investments are believed to be the outgrowth of the shifts of commerce directly traceable to the European war. Japan has been shipping to the United States a great amount of goods such as formerly were manufactured by Germany and at the same time exports of silks and other far eastern products from Japan to this country have been stimulated because of the reduction in the European demand.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 21.—The city of Terre Haute, through Mayor Gosson, entered the retail coal business yesterday, and greatly reduced the cost to the consumer. Residents of the city, through the municipal market, were able to buy coal at $2.75 a ton for which dealers were asking $3 a ton. Mayor Gosson has leased a mine and hired 200 teams to haul the coal to the city.

BRITISH STEAMER FIRED ON WITHOUT WARNING

THE SIAMESE PRINCE ATTACKED BY SUBMARINE OFF COAST OF FRANCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The British steamship Siamese Prince, returning in ballast after delivering a cargo of horses at Brest for the French government, was fired upon without warning, presumably by a German submarine, off the French coast on Nov. 4, according to officers of the vessel which arrived here today.

Three shots were fired, the officers said, two in quick succession which passed over the port quarter, and a third soon after, which dropped into the water astern. The Siamese Prince was swimming out, the crew of 42 and the ship put on full speed. The craft which attacked was not sighted at any time, owing partly to weather conditions, and the officers of the Siamese Prince were unable to say whether their vessel was pursued. The hostiles included many Americans, it was stated.

The attack took place at 7 a. m., 200 miles at sea, while a high wind was blowing and with heavy waves running. No attempt was made to torpedo the ship, which is owned by Furness, Withy and Co., and which carried 10 passengers. The officers of the vessel judged that the attacking boat was about one mile distant.

FARMERS' UNION WILL STAND BY FRIENDS

PALATKA, Fla., Nov. 21.—The Farmers' union will stand by its friends wherever it finds them, declared President Charles S. Barrett, addressing the annual convention of the national farmers organization which opened here today.

"The union has never been in partisan politics and will not be," continued Mr. Barrett. "Yet right here you may take it from me that no amount of partisan leaning shall drive the union from the support of its friends nor force it to sustain its political enemies. Knowing itself, its powers and limitations, the union is determined to control itself. This simply means that the union is not going to take its orders and directions from the outside. It means that the union is sane, self-maintaining and self-sustaining. It will fearlessly and steadily exercise its power for the betterment of the union, the producers of life's necessities, and the uplift of the human race."

Mr. Barrett warned the union against pretended friends "who, when the important moment comes do not hesitate to betray the issue."

An indication of the growth of the Farmers' union during the year.

President Barrett said charters had been granted to two new state organizations, Montana and North Dakota and three others were nearly ready. Equally important, he pointed out, was the steady development of the union's co-operative business enterprises which were getting better and more substantial results practically everywhere.

"If we would earn more as producers of wealth, we must learn more as wealth producers," said Mr. Barrett. "We must know enough to co-operate to secure and realize the equitable worth of our work."

Through the efforts of organized farmers, Mr. Barrett declared, the rural free delivery, the parcels post, the new rural credits law and better rural schools had been achieved. What had been accomplished was nothing, he said, to what would be accomplished by co-operative effort.

NOT TO RECOGNIZE NEW KINGDOM OF POLAND

SWISS GOVERNMENT TAKES ACTION—DECISION AFTER THE WAR IS OVER

PARIS, Nov. 21.—The Swiss government has decided not to recognize the newly created kingdom of Poland, according to a Swiss despatch to the radio agency. The despatch adds that the decision will not, however, be made public until after the war.

THIS SIMPLE LAXATIVE A HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Should Have a Place in Every Home.

Constipation, or inaction of the bowels, a condition that nearly everyone experiences with more or less frequency, is the direct cause of much disease. When the bowels become clogged with refuse from the stomach, foul gases and poisons are generated, and unless the congestion is quickly relieved the system becomes weakened and most susceptible to attack.

Various remedies to relieve constipation are prescribed, but many of these contain cathartic or purgative agents that are harsh and violent in their action and shock the system. The most effective remedy is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

The Hon. John D. Keister of Bradyville, W. Va., who has represented his district in the state legislature for six years, writes that he uses Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and finds it a splendid laxative, easy to take and mild, yet positive, in its action, and that it should be in every household for use when needed.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists in all parts of the United States and costs only fifty cents a bottle. It contains no opiate or narcotic drug, does not gripe, and is recommended as a family laxative, mild enough for the tiniest babe, yet sufficiently powerful to act easily on the strongest constitution.

To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure to get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

YALE AND PRINCETON HAVE MET 42 TIMES

When the Princeton Tiger and Yale Bulldog waded into each other last Saturday it was the forty-second occasion on which the two colleges battled for football supremacy. It was forty-three years ago, on November 15, 1873, that Princeton and Yale first clashed on the gridiron. Intercollegiate football was then in its infancy, and the first Princeton-Yale game was the memorable as being the first played under the code of rules which had just been adopted at a meeting of representatives of Princeton, Yale and Rutgers. These rules followed the principles of the association game, and were not accepted by Harvard, which then played unadulterated English Rugby. The first Princeton-Yale game was won by the sons of Old Nassau, the score being 3 goals to 0, and New Haven, the scene of the struggle, was bathed in gloom. The two colleges did not meet on the gridiron again until '78, when Old Eli turned the tables, winning by 2 goals to 0. This contest, like several that came after, was pulled off in Hoboken. Up to twenty years ago nearly all of the Yale-Princeton clashes were staged in New York, Hoboken or Brooklyn, but since 1897 they have alternated between New Haven and Princeton. Of the forty-one games played to date, Yale has won twenty-two, Princeton 10, and the remaining nine have been ties.

JOHNSON IN FAVOR OF THIRD BIG LEAGUE

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, "would not oppose" the formation of a third major league, he said today, when recent gossip concerning such an organization was brought to his attention.

"In fact," said Johnson, "I rather like the idea." As Johnson was the foremost foe of the federal league, his attitude was regarded with unusual interest. Cities suggested in connection with a third league are Baltimore, Buffalo, Newark, and Toronto, Toledo, Indianapolis, Louisville and Milwaukee. The plans at present discussed is to raise these cities to major league standing by placing them outside the draft.

QUARTERBACK IS NOT IMPORTANT IN NEW GAME

Quarterbacks, once the most vital cogs in football machines, have become unimportant parts of the new juggernaut. And it is all because of this new football game that has come among us.

In the olden days the entire team was built around the quarterback. He was practically every offensive play. Now teams play—and win—with quarterbacks doing little more than chanting signals.

Almost all the tossers of the forward pass are fullbacks or halfbacks. Most of the receivers are ends or associate halfbacks. The majority of punters and drop kickers are halfbacks or fullbacks. So it can be seen that whenever a forward pass, a punt or a drop kick is made the quarterback has nothing to do but sing out a few numbers—an easy job which any other player could do if the "pivot" man wasn't in the immediate neighborhood.

A quarterback is useful in an offensive mass play or in dashes around the ends, but he isn't an essential member of the team even then. Direct passing from the center to the man who is to carry the ball has made the quarterback unnecessary as a relay man. Very frequently games are played in which the quarterback handles the ball only two or three times in a game, unless he is a husky quarterback, of the Charlie Barrett type, who can smash a line or circle a wing with the power and skill of a halfback or fullback.

STORMY SESSION OF THE A. A. U. LAST NIGHT

PROFESSIONALS WILL BE ALLOWED
TO ACT IN COUNCILS OF THE UNION

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Because the knowledge they possess is needed to promote the best interest of the Amateur Athletic union, professionals will be allowed to act in the councils of the union. This action was taken after a stormy session, which marked the close of the organization's annual meeting late last night.

The convention by a large majority rejected two of the most important proposals of the revised constitution presented for adoption. One was the clause which would have kept out of the legislative affairs of the union a man who could not be an amateur in every sense of the word. Another was the proposed regulation which would have denied women swimmers the right to register with the union, a privilege granted them at the annual meeting two years ago.

Virtually all the other features of the new code were adopted. These include the new definition of an amateur, the acts of debarment which would bar every athlete who in any way infringed the prescribed regulations; the pardoning power which invests the board of governors with authority to reinstate debarred athletes after they have suffered the prescribed penance; and the penalties for violations of all the enumerated acts which include fraud, capitalization of athletic fame, coaching and competing for money.

The amendment relating to women swimmers, as adopted reads: "Registration shall be granted to women for swimming events confined exclusively to women but for only such events."

The next annual convention will be at St. Louis.

Chicago, Dec. 12, because of the meet-

HARVARD WILL VISIT BOWL
CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 21.—The Harvard football management announced today that the Crimson squad which will go to New Haven for the game with Yale next Saturday will leave on Thursday morning. Immediately after their arrival at New Haven the players will go to the Yale bowl, where they will spend the rest of the afternoon in acquainting themselves with local conditions.

Late in the day they will go to a hotel at New London, which will be their headquarters until the game. They will practice on the baseball diamond there. If the weather is favorable the backs may be taken to New Haven on Friday afternoon for another visit to the bowl.

The last home practice today and tomorrow probably will determine the final make-up of the eleven which will be started against Yale. Several positions are still uncertain.

EXPECT $80,000 AT GAME

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—
Yale's football gladiators polished their armor today in preparation for the Harvard invasion on Saturday.
The regulars emerged from the Princeton game in fair physical shape.
Johnny Mack and his assistants will now devote their energies to the task of rounding the men into top form.
The return of Travens Smith, the star quarter who was kept out of Saturday's game by illness is encouraging to the Eli cohorts. The practice during the week will be light with only two scrimmages.

Thorough preparation have been made for handling the hum-drum crowd of 80,000 that will witness the classic.
The extra seats at the bowl are ready.
Thirty-five thousand of the spectators will come here on 55 special railroad trains. The bulk of the remainder will make the trip by automobile. Ten thousand machines, it is expected, will be parked near the amphitheatre.

Navy in Final Workouts
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 21.—The final instructions and the final work of smoothing up their machine is being given by the Navy football coaches this week in preparation for the big game with Army at New York on Saturday. Notwithstanding the fact that Navy must use many new men against the West Point backbone of veterans, there is a growing confidence here that the sailors will be victorious this year. The final selection of 11 men to carry the colors has not been made.

ARMY-NAVY GAME SATURDAY
WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 21.—The return of Butler, a giant tackle of three years' experience to the Army football squad today is the feature of the cadets' final drive for Saturday's game with the Navy. Butler was sadly needed to bolster what was considered as the weak side of the Army's line. The team will be one of the heaviest sent out of West Point in years.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

THE BOMB OUTRAGES

The crime of placing dynamite bombs on outgoing steamers bearing cargoes for the entente allies has been going on for over a year and is now being renewed with increased desperation and recklessness as to the extent of the resultant disasters.

The recent explosion of munitions in New York harbor has doubtless encouraged the bomb conspirators to greater activity. The dynamite bomb in various forms is the instrument selected for the destruction of life and property by these criminals who are using the worst devices of war against innocent non-combatants with a view to aiding the powers opposed to those to which cargoes of supplies are being sent from this country.

The twenty unexploded bombs found in the cargo of the American steamer, Sarnia, on her arrival at Cherbourg, France, were undoubtedly placed there with the intention of sending ship, cargo and all on board to the bottom. Evidently some mechanism or fuse was also placed on board to start a fire near the bombs and thus destroy the vessel. Fortunately the fire which started, evidently according to arrangements, was extinguished before it reached the explosives. As the bombs were sewed in bags of sugar with which the ship was loaded, it would seem they were placed there by somebody who helped to put the cargo aboard. An investigation should throw some light upon the identity of the culprits.

Such operations as these go to prove that this country is being made a base of operations for striking the allies from this side the Atlantic. We are not fighting for either side; and as a neutral nation it is the duty of the government to stamp out a form of secret warfare that strikes at American commerce and American lives in an effort to inflict loss or injury upon certain belligerents.

THREE-STORY FIRE TRAPS

It was almost a miracle that there were no fatalities in that fire on Lakeview avenue on Sunday night. When the exits are cut off in a crowded three-story block of eight tenements, the danger is certainly about as bad as it can be. To the prompt and efficient work of the firemen was due the fact that no lives were lost.

It would seem that our building laws should provide for greater security against fire in these three-deckers divided up into small tenements. There are some of them but recently finished that cannot be regarded as anything but great fire traps in which the lives of the occupants are in extreme peril.

Had the Sunday night fire occurred later in the night so that the flames might have made greater headway before discovery, in all probability half the inmates would have perished before the firemen could get to the scene.

It would be well to have every block such as the "Scully" structure amply provided with fire escapes over which the inmates can get to the street if the exits to the building are cut off by fire.

DRIVING OUT FAKIRS

The Boston chamber of commerce in its work of running down fake charities has stumbled upon other forms of imposition that are quite common in every city in the land. Here is a statement from the official publication of the organization showing what has been accomplished:

"The contributions are sought in two classes: the straight donation, and the advertisement in the payment program, book, or manual. The merchant is induced to purchase tickets for balls and dances in another form of approach. The results of the chamber work are not always apparent, but recently they have had three direct results: First, that seventeen arrests and convictions have been made; second, that a large number of fake solicitors have left the community; third, that five so-called negro schools have been shown to be fake; fourth, that many questionable money-making schemes have ceased operation; and fifth, that more than a dozen so-called charities have been starved out because of the facts brought to light by the bureau."

These results in such a varied field as Boston are highly creditable. Many of the swindlers thus exposed and stopped in Boston are of the same class as some that ply their business in Lowell without interference.

COL. GOETHALS' CRITICISM

Col. Goethals sets back at his critics in his annual report where he deals with the slides at the Gulfport Cut of the Panama canal. The year so far as to criticize the geologists who have undertaken to explain the cause of the slides. He says the slides are not a sloping movement of earth from high adjacent ground, but arise from a settling due to the great pressure upon the substrata. The overlying material thus shares towards the canal finding a resting place by force of gravity. Col. Goethals seems the idea that the bottom of the canal is a bog which forces up the mass at the sides and tips it over. "Final rest," he says, "will be secured when all the material that can be set in motion shall have been removed." That might be accepted as a self-evident fact but when will all of that matter be removed?

Col. Goethals mentions quite a number of slides and even accepting his own theory it is plain that the slides are not all over as yet and that not even such an eminent expert as Col. Goethals can tell when or where the next is likely to occur or what will be its extent.

MEXICAN COMMISSION FLUNKS

It reports be true, the deliberations of the joint Mexican commission are to come to nought through the refusal of the chairman of the Mexican delegation to acquiesce in the agreement that had been drawn up apparently with the concurrence of all the members. So much the worse for Mexico if the proceedings come to a split. It is evident that the Mexican delegation has been advised against the proposed agreement. Carranza is apparently willing to take his chances in fighting it out alone. So far as can be judged he will be unable to assert his authority to the extent of ensuring peace. General Pershing's troops will be withdrawn from Mexico, but any future raids by bandits will bring swift punishment. The United States will have to undertake a systematic method of stopping the raids along the border. But for the European war a course of action might be adopted that would not only enforce peace along the border, but restore order throughout Mexico within a reasonable time.

FALL OF MONASTIR

The fall of Monastir is the first sign of any important result from the occupation of Saloniki by the allies, although undoubtedly there were many that have not appeared on the surface, one of which was preventing Greece from entering war on the side of the Teutons. The capture of Monastir has caused great rejoicing among the Serbians as the first step towards restoration to their country. It will be tenaciously held against all future assaults. It is notable that the French troops figured in capturing the city, an indication that although the French are making a gallant fight in front of Verdun they are contributing men to campaigns at other fronts. The British troops are, of course, operating from Saloniki. The aim originally was to meet the Russian forces across Bulgaria so as to cut the German line of communication to the south, but that apparently cannot be done for some time to come.

MR. BRYAN'S SHARE

Mr. Bryan is certainly getting the lion's share of praise for the democratic victory in the west. The last issue of his paper has two columns filled with messages of congratulation upon the success of his campaign. Here is one typical of the majority.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 11.—The principles you championed under trial and discouragement in the people's behalf against privilege have triumphed. Well suited is subject not king, at last. As a follower I ask the privilege of rejoicing with you.—James P. Proff.

Mr. Bryan has double cause for rejoicing over the result of the election. First the election of President Wilson; second, the triumph of prohibition, as four more states voted to take their place in the dry column, making the total number of prohibition states now twenty-three.

DEMOCRATS WILL BE FAIR

Republicans of the old stripe are beginning to express a dread lest the democrats cheat their party out of seats in the senate where there is a contest over the election. The republicans in the salary days of Tom Reed and Joe Cannon had little consideration for democratic claims in contested election cases, but Carr Reed is no more and republican power is gone, yet democrats will not copy the methods by which republicans denied practically all election contests in their own favor so long as they had the votes in congress to do so.

BETTER NOT TRY IT

It is alleged that with control of the next national house, the republicans will block reform legislation recommended by President Wilson. Very likely indeed. That is what they will be expected to do by the old guard of the republican party; but if they attempt it, they will further pave the way for the continuance in power of the democratic party. The voters, whether republican or democratic, do not expect men to block the path of progress.

The Federal Trade commission has just conducted upon an investigation of the food situation, it is likely that in about a year's time the commission will report that the prices are, indeed, high—springfield Union.

This feeling from a republican paper is not surprising, of course, but when some prompt action comes on the high cost of food, democratic plans will be talking in the same strain.

The fact of Miss Ruth Gamcroft Low in flying from Chicago to New York in a matter of 72 miles in nine hours and one minute beats all previous records and adds one more marvelous achievement to the credit of women. It indicates that where a man leads a woman will follow. In this case the woman has outdone all rivals in the extent of her achievement.

Tips to waiters will continue although the waiters are willing to be paid outright a fair week's wages and forego the tips. The proprietors who underpay the waiters on the assumption that the weekly wage will be supplemented by liberal tips are responsible for the continuance of the system.

Once upon a time a movement was started to purchase the Roosevelt homestead in New York by popular subscription but it fell flat and the mortgage was foreclosed a few weeks ago so that the building might be torn down. The homestead, like the colonel himself, no longer interests the public.

Various economy experts are telling householders how to live on 20 cents a day. If these theorists were compelled to live on the diet they prescribe for others, they would soon stop talking and disappear.

MAINE MAN AND WIFE INJURED BY DEER

AUBURN, Nov. 21.—John F. Stanley, 76, superintendent of the state fish hatchery at Lake Umbagog, and his wife, aged 71, were badly injured yesterday when they were attacked by a big buck deer kept in a corral at the hatchery. The animal, found beside its dead mother four years ago, had hitherto shown no animosity to its keepers and was kept in the yard. Mr. Stanley went to feed the deer

FELT LIKE A NEW PERSON

After Taking Only One Box Of 'Fruit-a-lives'

EAST SMITH HARBOR, N. Y. "It is with great pleasure that I write to tell you of the wonderful benefits I have received from taking 'Fruit-a-lives'. For years, I was a dreadful sufferer from Constipation and Headaches, and I was miserable in every way. Nothing in the way of medicines seemed to help me. Then I finally tried 'Fruit-a-lives' and the effect was splendid. After taking one box, I feel like a new person, to have relief from those sickening headaches."

and its mate, early yesterday, and while his back was turned the buck rushed him. After throwing him the animal mutilated him with his antlers and sharp hoofs.

Mrs. Stanley, hearing her husband's cries, rushed out barefooted and clad only in her nightgown. The buck threw Mr. Stanley bodily into a narrow but deep stream and then turned on Mrs. Stanley. She was saved from more serious injuries than cuts and bruises by a collie dog, which attacked the deer and diverted its attention.

Though nearly exhausted, Mrs. Stanley notified neighbors and Mr. Stanley was found lying unconscious in the stream. Physicians were summoned from Auburn and Lewiston and it was found that Mr. Stanley had suffered fractures of several ribs and possible internal injuries. Both he and his wife suffered much from exposure.

CELEBRATED MUSICIANS AT TEACHERS' COURSE

THIRD CONCERT COURSE TO SURPASS ALL OTHERS IN ARTISTIC EXCELLENCE

Lovers of the best there is in music will undoubtedly welcome the announcement that Mrs. Jeska Swartz-Morse, former prima donna contralto with the Boston Opera Co., and more recently at Covent Garden, London, will make one of her first appearances since returning from her pronounced successes abroad at Colonial hall tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Lowell Teachers' organization, and another great artist, to appear will be Josef Malkin, the famous cellist.

Before entering upon her engagement as premier soloist with the New York Symphony, Mrs. Swartz-Morse has consented to a limited number of solo engagements in this section of the country. These will offer the last opportunities to hear the charming diva before she enters the Chicago grand opera for a long engagement, which she begins after her appearance with the New York Symphony.

Mrs. Swartz-Morse, although dis-thirty a product of Boston, has successes in every large city in the world, to our credit. Particular glory attaches to her joint recitals with Ysaye, de Gozard, Emswiler, and Alice Nelson. Masters of grand opera both in Europe and America, after hearing the wondrous contralto, south her services, offering inducements of a well paid and interesting nature.

Believing in the doctrine of America first, Mrs. Swartz-Morse gave American producers the option on her services and conferred a special favor on Boston and vicinity by holding open a few weeks before entering New York, where she obtained the enviable position as soloist with the Symphony.

when hundreds of famous singers were rejected.

Mrs. Swartz-Morse is also a composer of note, and her recital will include some of her original compositions.

America has accorded Josef Malkin the most distinguished honor it can bestow upon a cellist, that of first cellist of the Boston Symphony orchestra, recognized the world over as the leading organization of its kind. Prior to beginning his seventh season with the orchestra, the eminent musician has consented to a few individual concerts, one of the first of which will be given at Colonial hall.

As leader of this, one of the most important sections of the sterling orchestra, Malkin rises to the height of a master of the instrument, on a par with the artists of old, and the peer of all the cellists of the present day.

Malkin's fame, however, is by no means confined to America, as he is known as a distinguished master of the instrument in every exclusive musical circle in Europe. This reputation, accorded to so few men, was gained upon specific attainments. There is no country of importance on the globe where the best of music is appreciated, and where it has not appeared with tremendous success.

PROBLEM OF HANDLING DEFECTIVE CHILDREN

Henry Herbert Goddard, Ph.D., director of the department of research, Training School for Feeble Minded Children, Vineland, N. J., was the speaker at the meeting of the Massachusetts Women's club, yesterday afternoon. His subject was "The Newest Problem is Education," and he handled it from the point of view of the expert who believes that a great need remains to be met in the handling of defective children so that they may be made useful members of society instead of a future menace to the country. The study of the feeble minded, he said, shows many important things in relation to the normal child. The talk was illustrated by charts showing brain development, etc. He said, in part:

"We have practically gone about our work of training children, as though they were all alike, except insofar as they have had different treatment. It is as if a wagon maker should say, 'All wood is the same, all that is necessary is that I have wood.' We know that he has to select with very great care. Does any one think, upon taking thought, that the human mind is any less variable in its capacities than wood? It is vastly more variable. We range all the way from the dull to the genius. We are not particularly conscious of our station, fortunately. The feeble minded child is no more conscious or worried about his feeble mindedness than I am about mine. We have our work to do, we are doing it, and the best of our ability and energy are satisfied with that. It is exactly that way with the feeble minded in our institutions."

"We are coming to believe that there are people who have stopped in their intellectual growth, and there is no use trying to bring them up to a higher standard. That is contrary to our practice, yet it is not new. We are constantly saying of people that they do not exercise good judgment. The mistake that we have made is in thinking, in a large percentage of cases, to lower that fact that people lack good judgment, good sense, is due to their environment. We have too long held the teacher responsible in these cases. Science has never discovered a way to bring these children up to the normal standard. We have no reason to believe that there are intellectual levels and our problem in education is to adapt our teaching to that level."

"I do not know that we are any nearer today to solving the problem of the relative importance of heredity and environment than we have ever been before. In this matter of intellectual levels the thing that we emphasize is that there is a hereditary tendency. There is a leveling down, so that you get a human being who is below the normal average. The question of heredity plus environment."

The feeble-minded child has concrete, definite experiences. You can teach him so that he will never cross the street in front of a red automobile, but he would never get out of the way of a black one. It is so in his mind experience. He may get to the point where he knows it is wrong to take a thing that he has been told They're here!

Several new numbers of very stunning overcoats have just arrived.

Soft faced Shetlands and chevots in blue, dark Oxford, brown, heather and brown and gold mixtures.

Made on the smart box model—both single and double breast, the last word in overcoats.

These "lofty" fabrics provide warmth without excessive weight—and therefore many are made with deep pure silk shoulder cape—otherwise unlined.

The greatest overcoat business in our history makes the arrival of these new garments opportune.

It is wrong to take, but he has no idea of the abstract principle that it is wrong to steal anything. That is why the feeble-minded are a menace all the time.

"If you are to take up the problem in Lowell, let me urge you not to reach down from above. Get right down, at the start, to the fundamental principles of very ordinary living. They have to be taught how to keep clean. It is not a question of reaching down and giving them a little manual training, it is a question of getting down to bed rock and teaching them these concrete things."

"We must have a special education for these people. We must educate them for a special life work, because they cannot do the things that we do. They cannot be trusted to act on their own initiative. We must give them special education, and then special life work under some sort of supervision."

JOSEPH LAGASSE DEAD
Capt. Arkison of the police station received word last evening of the death of one Joseph Lagasse, who is believed to have been a resident of this city, which occurred at the Rockingham, N. H., state farm. Lagasse was committed to the state farm from Newmarket, N. H., in 1905, at the age of 20, short, stout, smooth-face and light complexioned.

Solid Comfort for You When You Take

NAP-A-MINIT

Why talk of "painless dentistry?" Why think of pain at all? Nap-a-Minit has nothing to do with pain—it knows no pain. It is a sweet scented vitalized air that pleasantly lulls one to a state of drowsiness, leaving the patient vaguely conscious of the presence of the dentist, capable of hearing his voice and answering his questions, but like as not to forget what he is there for and what he is doing. You hear a slight human noise, that might be the buzzing of bees—or it might be the lapping of waves on the beach or the delightful rumble of a far away waterfall. You may close your eyes and indulge in a pleasant day-dream of those and other things, while the dentist works on surely and swiftly, doing better work because you offer no resistance—because he is not afraid of hurting you—because he can't hurt you. Because "Nap-a-Minit" means "no pain."

today is expected to be light. The polls opened at noon and will close tonight at 8 p. m. Since city elections have become non-partisan the campaigns have grown tame but this year there was an added reaction after the strenuous state and presidential contest.

In some sections it is expected that the women will vote in fairly representative numbers. They will be given a special ballot on which will appear only the names of the candidates for school committee.

The quietest ever. Of all the elections, preliminary or otherwise, to be held in Lowell, the present primary, as an easy-going, mention-no-party, gumshoe, whistle, proposition, takes the cake. The city has seen some quiet elections, but the oldest resident can remember nothing like this. Edward J. Tierney, candidate for alderman, was the only candidate to make out door speeches. Mr. Tierney held 14 meetings last evening and made as many speeches. Another candidate for alderman was to have taken the stump Thursday evening, but he evidently changed his mind as he has not been heard from.

Several of the candidates were seen at the different clubs last evening the biggest number appearing at the South End club. But there didn't seem to be any of the old-time enthusiasm and it's the surest thing you know that enough voters will stay at home to nominate any of the defeated candidates. It will require a whole lot of work and persuasion to get out anything like a normal vote.

There have been many reasons given for the lack of interest in the present election. One wiseacre lays it to the fact that the candidates have no jobs to offer. He points to the fact that the year is peculiar to itself; that heretofore the average candidate's stock in trade was the number of jobs he had to offer. But this year city jobs are going begging. There are so many other places to work and so many other jobs at better pay that the city job, once so much sought after, has been relegated to a back seat and just for that the average candidate for office has lost his principal asset. Duncan and Putnam are the only aldermanic candidates who can point to what they have done for the city during the last two years, for they are the only two who have had an opportunity to do anything, and they are not saying very much about it except what one reads in their advertisements.

Personal likes and dislikes will cut more or less figure in this as in all other elections and they do say that some of the names are being mentioned that have been given the once-over on the grindstone and are ready for certain candidates and thanksgiving turkeys as well. But the voter's plain duty is to go to the polls and vote for the men whom he believes will serve the city's best interests. The four highest men in the aldermanic contest and the six highest in the school board contest will be declared the nominees. The date of the city election is December 12.

The organizations could co-operate with the same purpose as if they were officially affiliated. He also made it plain that the brotherhoods were not bringing their 8-hour day "trouble" to the federation for support.

"I am about anarchist enough, however," he said, "to say that we are going to work for the 8-hour day for all classes. If we can't get it peacefully, we will fight for it."

Lee said that some sort of affiliation should be effected to fight any proposed arbitration legislation which might be unfair to labor. President Wilson plans such legislation, Lee said, and it should be carefully watched. He declared that only a man with the right to put any law compelling a man to work, provided he was not in prison, if he did not want to and he did not think it would do so.

Cheers For Pres. Wilson
Prolonged cheering followed praise of President Wilson by Lee. He said that he took more courage for him to write across the front pages of the newspapers of this country that he was for an 8-hour work day than it would have taken for him to have written that this country was at war with Mexico. "Our principal object now is to help the president and the men in both branches of congress to make good their promises to us. I believe they will do it."

Failure of the brotherhoods and the federation to affiliate before now has not been wholly the fault of either side, he said. He declared that invitations had come to the brotherhoods to appear before the federation meetings but they had not been accepted. "We are nearer affiliation today than we ever have been before," he said.

Will Not Strike
"I know that a large percentage of our members will be glad to know that we have been here and spoken to you today. It is absolutely necessary for us who are organized to get together and I say that we shall go the limit to obtain better conditions particularly for men on lines that the railroad now will not permit to organize. We will not strike, or go out to help them, but we will use our best efforts to obtain better conditions for them."

Lee paid his respects to the "Wall street crowd" and declared that now an election had been won without the assistance of New York, Indiana or Illinois, labor should not fail to retain its power thus gained.

Lee also reviewed the conference which led to the enactment of the Adamson eight hour day law last September and charged the railroad heads with playing unfairly with the president at that time. The brotherhoods, he declared, had no desire that Adamson bill be enacted into law, but they were trying to live up to it.

W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen and Enginemen, in his remarks declared that the danger that confronts all working people today is the "coercion or subordination of the public press by the master class."

"The coming of the penny paper," he added, "has done more than anything else to place the press under the domination of advertisers. Unfortunately labor has but little to do with advertising—practically all the advertisements come from the master class."

Carter declared that when the railroad brotherhoods began their eight hour movement a year ago, "a few men in New York City who direct the affairs of all the railroads," undertook one of the greatest publicity campaigns the world has ever witnessed.

"I have positive evidence from one of the leading advertising agencies," Mr. Carter said, "that provision was made to advertise in 3000 daily and 14,000 weekly papers. Think of it—many millions of dollars' worth of advertising to prejudice the public against the brotherhoods."

Pres. Compers
President Compers, in the course of his remarks, said:

"We expect that the railroad brotherhoods will on January 1st next begin their eight hour work day. I think I can truly say to you that whatever arises whatever befalls you have the undivided support of the organized working men and women as represented by the American Federation of Labor."

When the money power of the United States failed in the attempt to corrupt the electorate and when their plans were upset by the votes of the citizenship of the United States, the capitalists showed their colors. They met and gave out a declaration that they were going to antagonize every effort put forth by organized labor.

"But men of wealth, I say to you be careful how far you go. There is a limit even to human endurance. You throw down the gauntlet and we accept the challenge. When the time comes it will be another case of 'Lay on, MacLay!'"

And then he who first cries "Hold, Enough!"

1918 NAVAL ESTIMATES TO BREAK ALL RECORDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—While Secretary Daniels was awarding contracts yesterday for armor plate for the four battleships authorized at the last session of congress and approving plans for an ammunition ship, the last vessel designed for the 1917 building program, the appropriation subcommittee of the house naval committee began work on the 1918 estimate, the heaviest in American history, to be presented to congress this winter.

The navy department's 1918 figures contemplate construction of half of the ships yet to be built in the great three-year program, and show total appropriations of $778,151,761, or more than $66,000,000 in excess of the record total appropriated last summer.

from $600 to $1700 per torpedo, depending on the system of calculation employed. At the Newport station, where the bulk of the navy's torpedoes are produced, the amendment said, the cost of production was from $1000 to $2100 below the best prices obtainable from private manufacturers.

Admiral Strauss will appear before the committee again tomorrow and will be followed by other bureau chiefs and finally by Secretary Daniels and members of the general board.

The ammunition ship for which the secretary approved plans is the first craft of the kind ever designed for the navy. She will have a displacement of 10,000 tons with a cargo of powder and shells. Special facilities are provided for handling explosives aboard, and the holds will be equipped with cooling facilities to insure the regulation temperature. Large refrigeration space will make her easily convertible into a supply vessel. Propelling machinery is designed for either coal or fuel oil. A defensive armament includes four five-inch rapid fire guns and two three-inch anti-aircraft guns. Bids are being received from shipbuilders and the department hopes to be able to open them by the first of the year.

PRAISE PAPERS THAT REFUSE LIQUOR ADS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 21.—The National Women's Christian Temperance union in annual session yesterday adopted a resolution commending the 850 daily newspapers and 86 magazines in the country which are known to refuse liquor advertisements. The delegates pledged themselves as members of the organization to use their influence in every way possible in their respective communities to get newspapers now carrying such advertising matter to drop it at the expiration of present contracts.

Other resolutions introduced in the report of the resolutions committee also were adopted. Among them was one which said the organization believed in equal political rights for men and women and that the ballot in the hands of women is a weapon for the destruction of the liquor traffic. The union also went on record as favoring living wages and equal pay for equal services and as believing in justice as opposed to commercial greed. A pledge was given to continue the fight for constitutional prohibition, both state and national.

The principal speaker today was Anthony Carmichael, of the United States bureau of immigration. He reviewed the activities of the federal government, said that the number of persons placed for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916 was 75,195, and in the present fiscal year, he expected 200,000 persons to find work through the activities of the bureau.

This afternoon the custom of dedicating babies to temperance work was observed, many children being carried to the platform by their mothers and there receiving a white ribbon in token of the attitude on the liquor question planned for them.

TO RELIEVE TRAFFIC CONGESTION IN BOSTON

ALL STREET CARS TO BE REMOVED FROM WASHINGTON ST. FROM 9 A. M. TO 7 P. M.

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—All street cars will be removed from Washington street between Franklin and Boylston streets, from 9 a. m. until 7 p. m., from Dec. 1 to Jan. 13. The city is also contemplating closing Washington street to teams and automobiles traveling south during the same period.

It is planned to have cars run via Postoffice square, or give transfers to the tunnel. The Cambridge subway will, by Dec. 4, be operated to the South station, it is expected.

The city council yesterday, following a lengthy conference at which the speakers were President Brush of the Elevated Street Commissioner Goodwin, Corporation Counsel Sullivan, and representatives of various retail stores, voted to request the Elevated to divert its street cars during this period. Tomorrow a public hearing is scheduled by the street commissioner to consider the restricting of Washington street to south-bound vehicular traffic.

The city council is adopting the experiment in an attempt to relieve the annual crush in the shopping district during the Christmas rush, and the after-Christmas rush due to the returning and exchange of gifts, together with the bargain sales that occur just after the holidays. In case it is found that the scheme is both practicable and popular, it may be adopted permanently. A suggestion that the restriction apply during the night as well as the day was rejected by the council, on the grounds that there is no rush in the evening and that the theatres should be accessible by surface cars.

JUDGE REFUSES TO PRESIDE
THOMAS E. FAIR, Mont. Nov. 21. Judge R. L. McCulloch of Sanders county disqualifies himself yesterday rather than preside at the trial of Miss Edith Coby, a newspaper woman charged with the murder of A. C. Thomas, a politician. John M. Moore, editor, and A. S. Andrews, manager of the paper on which Miss Coby worked, are held as accessories for the murder. McCulloch said his reasons for refusing to preside at the trial were too personal to be explained, and called Judge Clements of Helena to the bench.

KELLEHER IS INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Thomas H. Kelleher, an inmate of the State Infirmary at Tewksbury, was indicted by the Middlesex Grand Jury, in special session at East Cambridge yesterday, on the charge of manslaughter. Kelleher is charged with striking Daniel Cronin, another inmate, over the head with a spade Oct. 18, thereby causing his death. Kelleher is now confined in the Worcester Insane asylum.

Other cases reported were: Salem K. Huson of Lowell, for forging and uttering in connection with a promissory note, and a second indictment for larceny; Joseph L. Murphy, larceny of $125 at Cambridge Nov. 16, from Thos. E. Williams; John L. Kndra, larceny Oct. 23 at Medford, $28; Rachel B. Jackson and Edward C. Connors, breaking and entering and larceny, July 24, at Lowell. There were also three secret indictments. The jury reported to Judge Stevens, finishing their work for the year.

LOWELL WOMAN INJURED IN TEWKSBURY

TEWKSBURY, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Margaret McDermott, aged about 65, of Tyler street, Lowell, was struck by an electric car south of the Wamssett railroad station here last night and received injuries on her face and body. She was taken to the State infirmary for treatment. Her injuries are serious, but she will recover.

Mrs. McDermott was walking on the track. The motorman saw her, but could not stop his car before it struck her.

PLEDGE THEMSELVES TO VOTE FOR LICENSE

BROCKTON, Nov. 21.—Michael DePasquale of 74 Lawrence street startled residents of this no-license city yesterday when he declared that the Italian voters of the city had pledged themselves to vote for license at the coming municipal election, because they felt that no more liquor could be sold in Brockton under a license regime than was dispensed at present, and that the city would derive a considerable income from licensed saloons.

"Liquor comes into this city in astonishingly large quantities every day and is sold by kitchen bar rooms and drug stores," says the statement prepared by the Italians and given out for publication by DePasquale. "The prices are much higher than in Boston. The fact that the law has been flagrantly violated ever since it went into effect is generally known. If the city should go license this year it would drive out the lawless system and give the city the benefit fees from 62 saloons so we would have more money for schools, streets and sidewalks."

"The No-License league has been active for a good many years trying to keep Brockton free from saloons, but it has not succeeded in stopping the enormous traffic in liquor. What is the use of keeping Brockton 'dry' when such a quantity of liquor is coming in? It simply cheats the city out of license fees."
